

1500 GATHER FOR OPENING OF TERMINAL

Governor and Many Officials in Throng Which Hails First Parr Unit as Greatest Step in Development of Bayside

Air Stunts, Food Inspection, Food on Program; Biggest Electric Furnace on Coast Started as Guests Look On

A goodly share of the world's commerce is ours, and large will be Oakland's portion through the enterprise and the foresightedness of its Chamber of Commerce, its newspapers, and its progressive citizenry. Oakland, City of Commerce and Fulfillment, your State, your neighbors and your government congratulate you on the completion of this great land and water development. — Governor Stephens at opening of Parr Terminals today.

Oakland, by virtue of her strategic location, is destined to become the leading industrial and commercial center of the Pacific slope. Her growth and development has been very rapid, and with the wonderful productive areas within a zone of 150 miles from this city, for which we are the natural distributing center, our city will continue to advance. — Mayor John L. Davis at Parr Terminals opening.

Significance of Oakland's waterfront development to the city, the Bay community, and the state was emphasized this noon when the first unit of the Parr Terminals was opened formally in the presence of more than 1500 persons.

Volunteering Oakland's attainment of major importance as a harbor and predicting for the western waterfront an era of stupendous development were Governor William D. Stephens, Mayor John L. Davis, and Mayor John L. Davis.

Major Louis Bartlett, of Berkeley, and a trip of inspection, and with the arrival of the special train of commerce of these cities, were honored guests.

Edward Rainey, secretary, represented Mayor Ralph of San Francisco, and Max J. Kuhl represented the Chamber of Commerce of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

TRAIN FROM CITY TO NEW WAREHOUSE

The festivities, which included a program of aerial inspection, opened with the arrival of the special train from Fourteenth and Franklin streets in Oakland. Bearing the guests from other cities, the Oakland Advertising club, and the hundreds of others, the long line of cars moved slowly along the front that the points of interest might be shown. At the city station, the guests were met by a steam train and were joined by the San Francisco party. A stop was made at the American Manganese Steel company, where the largest electric steel furnace on the Pacific coast was in operation.

From the car windows the party inspected the terminals, the rail lines approaching it, and the view of the city and waterfront with its improvements and evident possibilities. At the new warehouse, the first of a number to be erected, the hundreds of the future of Oakland's harbor was painted in bright pigments by orators of both sides of the bay.

SAN FRANCISCO SENDS ITS CONGRATULATIONS

Kuhl warmly congratulated Oakland on the step taken toward providing terminal facilities for the largest cargo carriers and emphasized the desirability for co-operation between the cities about the bay, that the greatest port of the Pacific should always be here.

The Governor was escorted to the terminal by D. Parr, an old friend, who met the executive with an automobile. Governor Stephens confined his remarks to a simple expression of congratulation to Parr officials and the city of Oakland.

The plans for further development were outlined by Walter D. Cole, president of the local chamber, who told the visitors of the remarkable record of commercial expansion Oakland has seen.

GREAT DAY, SAYS MAYOR TO GUESTS

Love a-la-Carte

MRS. THORNTON WILSON, who went to a dinner at Hotel Claremont last night as Miss Irene Ray with no intention of becoming a bride, but whom Captain Wilson, law student at Harvard, persuaded to continue on to the altar.

Warrior Woos Over Soup, Wins Bride at Pie

U. of C. Romance Ends in Lochinvar Wedding; Miss Ray Now Mrs. Wilson

Lord Lochinvar, are not all found in the pages of fiction, else Miss Irene Ray, daughter of P. M. Ray and Mrs. Agnes Ray, member of the State Board of Education, would not have become the bride of Captain Thornton Wilson last night.

When the pretty young University of California graduate accepted the invitation of the erstwhile captain of marines to dine at the Claremont Hotel she had no hint that it was to be her wedding night. Plans for the festive, which was to celebrate the home-coming of Captain Wilson, law student at Harvard, were made last Saturday night.

Wilson kept the real purpose of the intimate little function a deep secret.

BEGINS TALE OF LOVE OVER THE SOUP

He began his love story with the soup, made progress with the salad, claimed his only guest's interest with the entrée, and won her consent with the desert. Cafe noir was looked at the couple dashed down to the city hall, placed their case before Night Captain of Inspectors Joseph Robinson, urged his aid in locating License Clerk Adams and arousing Justice of the Peace Pulcifer from dreams of love and lovers.

With the cook book which is the county's contribution to all brides, her only wedding gift, Mrs. Wilson and her young captain hurried homeward to tell their families what they had done.

There was no need to ask forgiveness. The Wilson and the Ray families were quite as happy in the romance as the young couple themselves. This morning the Wilsons are planning their future. Early next month they will journey to Boston, where the bride will resume her law study, and where the bride, whose gifts as a musician have already been recognized, will devote herself to further study. In the meantime, Mrs. Wilson is assembling a hasty and belated trousseau.

BOTH GRADUATES OF CALIFORNIA UNIVERSITY

Mrs. Wilson is a niece of Elmer Harris, the playwright and screen writer, of Mrs. Lillian Harris Coffin of San Francisco, prominent civic worker and clubwoman, and Mrs. Jennie Jackson, now in Southern California.

Both she and her husband are graduates of the University of California. She is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Wilson is a Gamma Delta Gamma man. During the war he enlisted in the marines, not returning to the coast before entering the Harvard law school.

He came to California to spend the vacation with his family in Berkeley. The happy wedding of last night was the culmination of a college romance.

TWENTY-ONE TO ORGANIZE FOR INQUIRY

Committee Recently Appointed to Ascertain Fusion Sentiment of County Plans Move for an Examination

New Charter League Probably Will Be Found at the Meeting Tomorrow Night; Statistics in Important Part

Perfection of organization, the appointment of necessary sub-committees and the probable formation of the New Charter League of Alameda County, will result from the first meeting of the newly appointed Committee of Twenty-one under whose auspices have been placed the duties of ascertaining the sentiment in the county and perfecting the machinery by which the campaign may be conducted. The session is to be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening in Room 214, Bacon building, Oakland.

"It is not definitely certain what we will do," said Chairman Walter D. Cole, "but it is probable that we will organize the machinery to go ahead. We are going into a new business and we wish to know what the income will be to the people of Alameda county. We must have the statistics and must include every factor. It will mean hard work."

"Second, we must determine how the new business may be obtained. This will mean an examination of the law and the various methods by which we may operate. We must work out a definite program."

Chairman Cole said that the appointment of an executive committee and a statistical committee would be important questions before the meeting. He also said that the matter of the formation of the new Charter League was one that might well come up, and which, to him, looked like a logical development. The league will be open to the public and will be the great working organization of the campaign.

Wounded Victim of Train Bandit Dies

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—The death of J. B. Rood, dining car steward, from wounds inflicted by a negro who held up the Chicago day express, a Pennsylvania train, just entering Chicago from New York, was announced today by police in search for the bandit, who was identified as a discharged dining car waiter on another railroad.

The bandit stopped the train by jerking the emergency cord and stuffing a match in an air coupling. Members of the train crew warned occupants of the other coaches when the shoving match broke out and passengers fled without trying to take the steward's money.

Apartment Occupants Flee From Flames

Fire early this morning at 1200 East Twelfth street, utilized as a store and apartment building, threatened the building with destruction and sent many of the occupants of the apartments on the second floor scurrying into the street in scanty costumes.

The fire was caused by a defective flue and gained considerable headway in the attic of the building, which was discovered. The damage is estimated at $600. No one was hurt. One arrest was made at the fire, when Carl H. Doell drove over a line of fire hose, when his mobile was arrested by Patrolman J. T. Mullin.

Evangel Invokes God of Storms; Bolt Kills Two

LAPORTE, Ind., Aug. 10.—If a bolt of lightning should strike this tent tonight how many would be ready for it? Rev. John Timmer, evangelist of Jackson, Mich., asked a congregation of Free Methodists crowding a tent at Springfield, six miles north of here last night. Outside a storm was threatening.

A few moments later a bolt of lightning entered the canvas top, killed the evangelist and his wife, severely burned the Rev. Mr. Timmer and knocked down many of the worshippers.

The dead are the Rev. Henry Lenz of Belvidere, Illinois, and the Rev. L. S. Huston, field agent of the Evansville, Wisconsin, Evangelical Association.

Villa Gives Up; Brandy Flagon Is Sent 'Round

Gaudy Surrender Later; Bandit Chief and Men to Get Ranches

By RALPH H. TURNER. UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT. SAN PEDRO, Coahuila, Mexico, Aug. 5 (delayed).—Francisco Villa surrendered today.

After years of banditry and defiance to both the Mexican and the United States governments, the outlaw delivered himself into the power of the Federals during the afternoon and drowned his sorrows in a bottle of cognac.

Formal surrender ceremonies will take place later, with pomp and circumstance, but Villa actually placed his person in the hands of his former enemies today. He met General Eugenio Martinez, the Federal commander, under an old tree on a ranch five miles from San Pedro.

Villa marched as far as San Pedro with his men, who were camped in the town and, with only a handful of retainers, rode on to the rendezvous in accordance with an agreement reached with the government recently.

AROUND AND AROUND

Half a dozen military representatives of President-elect Huerta, General Martinez among them, were waiting under the tree. Villa galloped up in his dashing style, swung from his horse and waved his hand to the group of officers.

There was handshaking and a bottle of cognac was produced. After the formal hand had been shaken, Villa, in a swiftness of movement, passed the flagon and it went from tip to tip around the circle and eventually back to Villa.

After Franco had enjoyed his second glass, he was taken to the barracks.

Turkish Peace Pact Is Signed By Allies

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The Turkish peace treaty was signed today at Sevres, four miles northeast of Versailles, the last treaty to grow out of the world war. Serbia, dissatisfied over the allotment of the Turkish debt, refused to sign.

The decision to get the treaty out of the way today came unexpected. It previously had been stated that "on account of the chaotic condition of affairs in the Near East," the signing would be postponed.

The United States was not represented, as America never formally declared war against Turkey.

Cox to Speak Here During Campaign

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—With a declaration that James M. Cox, Democratic candidate for the presidency, would have no mission in England, his landing in England is inevitable. I had no desire to go to England, but wanted to go to Ireland, Ireland is my home. I am a native of Ireland, and it is seven years since I was NONE THE WORSE FOR TRIP

Urban, unfurled and smiling, the American candidate went in a hack to the railroad station, where he boarded a train which would get him to London at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

He sat beside fellow Catholics on the platform. "I am none the worse for the cruise on the destroyer," he said. "When the officers of the destroyer boarded the Baltic I was told that I would not be allowed to land in Queenstown. That I already knew. But I was told that I would not be allowed to go to Liverpool, Glasgow or Manchester. That did not know. I was compelled to leave the liner and board the destroyer."

Archbishop Mannix Is Twice Arrested By British Authorities, Taken to London; the Prelate Scores Nation's Act

Soldiers Fire Into Irish Crowd Which Refused to Obey the Curfew Law When Celebrating the Arrival of Priest

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. DUBLIN, Aug. 10.—One man was killed and one wounded during the night when soldiers fired a volley into a crowd, which celebrating the arrival of Archbishop Mannix in England, refused to obey the curfew law. The crowds jubilated in the streets amidst huge bonfires. Two soldiers were reported killed at Clonakilly during the demonstration.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Archbishop Daniel Mannix of Australia, who was landed yesterday at Penzance, by a British destroyer, which took him from the way to London from the Irish coast, arrived here at 6 a. m. today. There were only a few reporters and a handful of priests present to greet the Archbishop, but a large number of Irishmen gathered about the station. There were no untoward incidents.

"The British government officials are putting me to a little inconvenience, but are making themselves very silly," Archbishop Mannix of Australia made this comment to a group of priests who greeted him at Plymouth on his way to London from Penzance, where a British destroyer landed him.

Archbishop Mannix is virtually under arrest. Scotland Yard detectives accompanied him on his trip, though offering no interference with his movements.

MANIX TWICE PUT UNDER ARREST

The archbishop was twice placed under arrest today. When the destroyer arrived off Queensboro, he was boarded by a fleet of British destroyers, which closed in around the liner. The officers passed orders to the Archbishop Mannix, from General Sir Nevill Macready, the military commander in Ireland, and from Field Marshal Wilson, the British commander in chief.

Macready's order forbade Archbishop Mannix to land in Ireland. Wilson informed him that he could not land at Manchester, Liverpool or Glasgow. He was placed under arrest and placed in a motor launch, which was taken to the pier.

The commander of the destroyer refused to permit the archbishop to disembark. He was taken to the pier and placed in a motor launch, which was taken to the pier.

BRITISH WARSHIPS SURROUND LINER

The mobilization of warships around the Baltic amazed the passengers on the liner. However, reached them en route, with instructions to proceed to Penzance, at the extreme southwesterly tip of England.

At Penzance Archbishop Mannix was landed from the destroyer in a motor launch and proceeded to the railway station, where his baggage was examined by a customs officer.

From the railway station, the archbishop went to the house of Canon Wade, the Roman Catholic priest in Penzance, remaining there some hours. He was accompanied by a Scottish Yard detective.

When asked if he cared to say anything about his mission, Archbishop Mannix replied: "I have no mission in England; my landing in England is inevitable. I had no desire to go to England, but wanted to go to Ireland, Ireland is my home. I am a native of Ireland, and it is seven years since I was NONE THE WORSE FOR TRIP

Lloyd George to Appeal to U. S. in Polish Crisis; Reds Menacing Peace of Europe

POLAND MUST BE RESCUED, PREMIER TELLS COMMONS

Poland's Attack on Russ Repudiated By Allies and Soviet Is Given Guarantees Against Repetition

DEMAND MADE FOR ARMISTICE

(By International News Service) LONDON, Aug. 10.—While Lloyd George was addressing the Commons on Polish-Soviet peace, Ben Tillett, a laborite member of commons, interrupted the premier to ask what action the United States might be expected to take regarding Russia and Poland.

"I shall certainly appeal to America, it is certain there is no difference in opinion in America and in Europe regarding the independence of Poland," replied Mr. Lloyd George.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(By the Associated Press).—"I am still hopeful of peace," were the opening words of Premier Lloyd George's announcement in the House of Commons today with regard to the Russo-Polish crisis.

The house was crowded and the tension was high in anticipation of the premier's "peace or war" statement. As he entered he was warmly cheered.

M. Krassin and Kameneff of the Russian soviet delegation here were in the strangers' gallery.

Mr. Lloyd George declared the Polish attack was not justified, in the opinion of the British Government, and the Soviet Government, in any conditions of peace, were entitled to take into account the facts of the attacks made by the Poles upon Russia and that those attacks were delivered despite the warnings of the allies to Poland.

He demanded such guarantees as would be exacted by any power against a repetition of attacks of that kind. What was challenged, he said, was that "nothing justifies retaliation, reprisal or punishment which goes to the extent of wiping out national existence."

"Apart altogether from the general right of any power to demand the extinction of another nation as punishment for the aggression of its government," Premier Lloyd George said, "Europe has to be considered. The independence of Poland and its existence as an independent nation is an essential part of the structure of European peace. Repatriation of Poland would not merely be a crime; it would be peace and we have to consider both these contingencies as a basis for our policy."

The premier declared that the sole purpose of the allied policy was to secure peace on the basis of independence for ethnographic groups. He said the Hythe conference agreed to endeavor to negotiate an armistice and make peace as long as such independence was recognized. That recommendation has been forwarded to the Soviet Government, the premier stated.

THE PREMIER BE JUST IN MAKING HIS SPEECH

"We are not going to have a quarrel or propose to engage this country in a dispute, whether it means much or little, upon the difference between Monday or Wednesday, and there the allies are agreed."

"If they negotiate an agreement at Minsk, we do not propose to intervene to upset any arrangement which is acceptable to the Poles. It is their affair. I sincerely trust it will mean peace, but supposing it did not, we have got to face that."

cause the Poles conferences failed to exact, having regard to the way in which the conflict started and to the allies' military condition, then the premier declared. However, the Bolshevik insisted upon terms threatening the independence of Poland, then a different situation would arise.

The premier said no action would be taken except to support the struggle for Poland's existence and independence. No allied troops would be sent to Poland, he declared. It would not be necessary, he said, if the Polish resources were thoroughly organized and well directed.

The next action, continued the premier, would be to put economic pressure upon Soviet Russia, either by naval action or international action. Substantial stores, he said, were available in that quarter of the world which the allies would feel obliged to send to Poland.

DECLARE WAR WITH SOVIET WOULD BE "CRIME"

The resolutions declared war between the allies and Soviet Russia over Poland would be "an intolerable crime against humanity." The British government was warned that organized labor will be used to defeat such a war.

It was resolved to "take such steps as may be necessary to carry the decision into effect."

A "committee of action" appointed by the meeting will see Premier Lloyd George today. The conference is regarded as having presented an ultimatum to the government threatening direct action.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 10.—A treaty of peace between Russia and Latvia will be signed at once, said a Lethish telegraph agency report from Riga today. It added that the Lethish and Russian envoys who have been in conference at Riga had reached agreements on all questions under discussion.

POLAND'S NORTHERN ARMY CRUMBLES BEFORE REDS

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (Via London, Aug. 10).—Poland's northern army has been crumbled and the defensive line along the river Bug has been broken by the Bolshevik attacks, reports from Warsaw indicated today.

Warsaw is girdled by newly-made trenches and fields of barbed wire entanglements, these advisers said. Many spies have been caught in the city and scores of deserters have been apprehended there. The government has decreed court martial and death for all such cases.

PARIS, Aug. 10 (1:50 p. m.).—Bolshevik troops have reached the Warsaw-Danzig railway and are advancing toward the city, according to foreign office dispatches today. The Russians have taken Ostrolenka, the message said.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Russian cavalry have occupied Mayra, cutting the Warsaw-Danzig railway, and are now but three days' march from the Polish capital, said a despatch from Marienwarder today.

If the Russians have severed the Warsaw-Danzig railway, it means that the so-called corridor connecting Poland with the Baltic has been closed.

LONDON, Aug. 10 (by the Associated Press).—In view of the Soviet threat to cut the Warsaw-Danzig railway from Warsaw to Danzig, the Poles repaired the line between the two cities which runs by the way of Thorn, Bromberg and Dirschau, says the London Times. This road is twice the length of the other, but outside the area of military operations.

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LONDON, Aug. 10.—Bolsheviks are leaving a trail of murder and outrage in their advance, the Polish Red Cross charged today in a message to the League of Red Cross societies. difference of opinion in their general attitude towards Polish independence. The premier declared that up to the present Great Britain was taking no steps to assist in any attack on Soviet Russia inside her own territory, since the British government's changed policy was announced. The premier declared that the negotiations with Soviet Russia had been broken down because of the Bolshevik attitude and the allies had cut Russia from the outside world, there would be an end to any trade negotiations. "If they want peace," he said, "they can get it and the London conference proposal was intended to establish peace."

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The war clouds lifted today. Premier Millerand, who returned from Hythe, England, where he conferred on Sunday and Monday with Premier Lloyd George, announced that the question of the French mobilization for war on Russia was not mentioned at the conference.

"It will be stupid to consider such a thing," said the premier. Premier Millerand conferred throughout the morning with the heads of the French government. He will meet the full French cabinet to make a detailed report tomorrow.

WILL FAVOR ENROLLMENT OF ALLY EX-SOLDIERS
It was unable to discuss the results of the Hythe conference until after Premier Lloyd George has made his announcement to the British House of Commons," continued the premier. "But at all events, the treaty of Versailles guaranteeing Polish independence will be upheld."

According to the Petit Journal the allies will favor the enrollment of former allied soldiers in the Polish army as volunteers. The allies are particularly anxious to bolster up the air and artillery branches of the Polish army.

Sea Blow at Finland Soviet Plan, Report

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Unofficial but trusted reports have reached the foreign office from Estonia that ships of the Russian navy are being mobilized with the apparent intention of attacking Revel and Helsingfors, capital of Finland. Officials who gave out the information refused to comment on it.

not to appeal to the League of Nations on behalf of Poland on account of the inability of the league to take any decisive action.

The "American note" which the foreign office announced was being received into a mystery. The government has refused to give out the text of the note, but it is believed that no note had been sent.

"The United States takes sides against Poland," was the headline used by the Matin upon its story of the note. The allies will ask the Scandinavian countries and Germany to join in a new blockade of Russia," said a Hythe dispatch to the Petit Journal. "The allies will also ask the Scandinavian states and all the border states that were formerly a part of the Russian empire to establish 'defensive frontiers.'"

PARIS, Aug. 10.—Military decisions reached at the Hythe conference between Premier Lloyd George and Premier Millerand and their advisers were as follows, according to the French foreign office:

First.—That it was impracticable and unnecessary to send allied troops to Poland.

Second.—The integrity of Poland's western frontier was guaranteed. (This probably means that any effort for Germany to use the present crisis in an attempt to regain any of the territory ceded to Poland under the treaty of Versailles would be decisively negated by the allies.)

Third.—That the allies would continue sending munitions and skilled officers to Poland.

Blockade measures would possibly be taken later, it was said, but French opinion questioned the effectiveness of such action.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Although the soviet war office at Moscow today reported further progress in the advance on Warsaw from the north, it failed to confirm reports from Warsaw that the Warsaw-Danzig corridor had been closed by the Bolshevik cavalry. "We forced the Narew river and occupied the suburbs of the fortress city of Rozan. We occupied the fortress of Ostroleka," Southwest Warsaw we occupied Piatrova. We advanced ten miles west of the Bug river."

JAMES O'NEIL, ACTOR, IS DEAD

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 10.—James O'Neil, the actor, died at the Lawrence Memorial Associated Hospital today. He had been ill for two months, suffering from an internal disorder. His wife and his sons were at the bedside. He was 70 years of age.

For more than fifteen years and in more than 6,000 performances, James O'Neil played the part of Edmund Dantes in "The Count of Monte Christo" until his name became so associated with that play that in the minds of drama lovers to mention one was to suggest the other. It was his great part, the character in which he achieved his greatest success, and despite his efforts to discard it for others, he was often compelled to return to it in gratification of public demand or at the request of theatrical managers.

O'Neil made his first appearance in that play at Booth's theater in New York, in 1885, under the management of John Stetson, when Charles P. Thorne, who played the part of Dantes, died. O'Neil took the part and thereafter played it continuously for years.

An unusual incident in O'Neil's career was his attempt to impersonate Christ in a Passion play produced in 1880 at San Francisco, where O'Neil was then a popular player. The effort was frowned upon by the authorities despite the fervor and reverence with which O'Neil essayed the part and, after running for a few weeks, it had to be withdrawn. Later an attempt was made by Henry E. Abbey to produce the Passion play in New York with O'Neil in the lead role, but it was prevented by the authorities.

O'Neil was brought to this country when a small child from the home of his parents in Kilkenny, Ireland, where he was born November 15, 1849. His first appearance on the stage was in the National theater at Cincinnati in 1868. Subsequently he appeared at the St. Louis Varieties for a season in Cincinnati, was leading juvenile in a Baltimore company; played in a Chicago stock company for two years, and appeared with Adelaide Neilson and Edwin Booth in classic plays.

He went to New York in 1875 and played "Pierre" in "The Two Orphans," "The Prince in 'The Danes' and his Jean Renaud in "Celebrated Cases." Beginning in 1893 he achieved an enviable reputation as D'Artagnan in "The Musketeers." He attempted many years ago to retire from the stage but often was recalled to appear in romantic dramas in which he was at his best.

Italy Uses Bees to Solve Sugar Problem

ROME, Aug. 10.—Italy is using means to alleviate the beet sugar shortage. She has been urged to put more bees at work producing honey.

In 1917 Italy had nearly 65,000 miles of railways and at regular intervals along the lines are little houses where the railway employees, signalmen, track walkers and repairmen live. The manager of the National Institute for Agrarian Assistance recently recommended that they each be given a hive of bees. In conformity with the suggestion the experiment is to be begun at once on the lines in the province of Rome and, if successful, it will be extended to all the railways of Italy.

Mrs. Viola Henderson, who made the complaint, was also in court.

Henderson told the judge that for three weeks after the warrant had been issued for his arrest he had sent money for the support of his wife and child and that his remittances only stopped when he became ill and was unable to work. He was released on his own recognizance and will be examined in police court September 14.

THEY BOTH BOY
"During a correspondent, Villa said: "I don't want any more enemies, only friends."

Later he made a more formal statement: "Mexico and the Mexicans, including myself, are tired of fighting. It is best now to settle down and go to work. I'm eager to show that I can work as well as fight. I'm a soldier and I am ready to obey orders."

The last sentence he emphasized with a low bow and a sweeping gesture to General Martinez, who responded with another bow.

General Martinez, later in the day, will have charge of the demobilization of the Villista troops. Each man is to be given a small ranch. Villa will be given a large ranch and a bodyguard of fifty of his men. He will select one who will be on the government payroll.

Villa today expressed himself as anxious to have the ceremonies over so he can settle down to the simple life of a gentleman rancher.

Villa received one of the greatest ovations of his career when he rode back to San Pedro. The news of his arrival had spread and a crowd of possibly 5000 people rushed into the plaza. The former bandit was received with a chorus of "Vivas."

Forcing his way through the throng, bowing right and left, Villa seemed nearly overcome by his emotions. Finally he was moved to make a very eloquent speech, which was well received.

The main theme of Villa's speech was that the people ought to forget politics and go back to work. He said that he had set them a good example.

Villa was attired in riding breeches, leather leggings reaching above the knees, a cotton jacket and a huge sombrero. Shortly after his arrival he rode down the street in a handsome felt hat of American make which was presented him by admirers. Despite the fact that he is now 48, and that he and his men had ridden on the last leg of their journey for 24 hours across the desert without water, Villa appeared to be in the best of condition. He looked rugged, healthy and stalwart and apparently had thrived during the last two months while eluding government soldiers. In fact, he looked as if he had taken on some fat.

Will settle down on a rancho at Canutillo, Durango, where I'll raise cattle and crops," Villa said. "I admit that's a considerable change from my life of the last ten years, but I believe I'll do more for my country if I keep out of politics altogether. I have not decided to hold public office of any kind. I hope to be able to help better conditions in Mexico, including education. Personally, I could not write my name until I was a grown man. I still have a very poor education, but my words are sincere, and when I say 'I mean it' I mean it."

Villa refused to discuss politics in detail or express any opinion about the present government, except to say that he intended to abide by its laws.

Describing his trip from Chihuahua to where he surrendered, he said he traveled 800 miles in twelve days and that for forty-eight hours he was on the march without water. He said he knew the government was looking for him, so he decided to tell where he was, but sought safe territory first. He said he had to capture a town and then reveal his presence.

Villa was the center of a joyous celebration in San Pedro today. He and his men were lionized. It was a semi-holiday.

Bands paraded the plaza, playing the old Villa revolutionary song "La Cucaracha," which means "The Cockroach," and in which Villa is represented as boasting he will "get the whiskers of Carranza" and make himself a garment out of them.

One of the most dramatic episodes of the day was the meeting between Villa and General Escobar, one of the Carranza leaders responsible for the execution of Felipe Angeles, Villa's old aide and close friend. Villa had sworn to kill those responsible for Angeles' death. Today he met Escobar while he was standing with a group of officers talking about Mexico.

"Angels," said Villa, "was Mexico's greatest general. Also, he was my best friend. It was a crime to kill him."

HAND ON GUN
BUT NO SHOOTING
As he spoke he fixed his eyes on Escobar and glared. Escobar kept his hand on his gun. The atmosphere was very tense for a moment. Nobody spoke. Then General Martinez tactfully changed the subject and the crisis passed.

Villa moved freely around the town, cheered at every turn; but it was noted that he always had a bodyguard of five armed men at his heels.

His troops looked fierce and wild. They were typical of the reckless band that made Villa's name a terror throughout the north and which even eluded Pershing's expedition. Some were long and lean, with big mustaches, dressed in the fashion of Texas cowboys, with a chaparral. Others were more characteristically Mexican, attired in tight-fitting leather trousers, braided jackets and enormous hats. But they all carried rifles and revolvers and apparently were on the alert for treachery.

HEY, FATTY! GET BLINDERS. SNEW WAY TO REDUCE

Do you want to reduce? This is one of those medical advertisements that look like reading matter.

On the other hand, it is a tip to the heavy or those who are getting a pair of blinders that will keep them from seeing the way to reduce.

With the blinders you cannot see. Unable to see, you can't find out how to reduce. You can't eat. Without eating you will lose weight.

It may take a couple of weeks. Take down the matter, but rigorously keep the blinders over your eyes. Results are guaranteed.

We're not kidding.

John Rowley, curator of the Oakland public museum, insists that he means what he says. That's the way it is done by the sealions on New Year's island, in Monterey bay.

Rowley has made a scientific study of the life of the sealions. He is preparing a paper for an issue of the journal of zoology on his findings.

In his paper Rowley will present the results of his observations on the habits of sealions, which extend over a period of three months.

When a sealion gets too fat for its own health, it puts its head down and looks at the water. It then goes to the water and stays there until it is thin again.

At the end of the time the sealion has been covered their eyes and lost them their sight quickly disappears and the sealion jumps into the water and prepares to resume his gluttony.

It takes them about six months of rigorous living to get fat again and then they must go through the starvation process at the end of the year. The sealions are just as fat as the people who are getting too fat.

How practical the idea may be for application to human beings, the museum head is unwilling to admit. He admits that since people do not go blind like the sealions do, it would be pretty hard for them to keep artificial blinders over their eyes long enough for their heads to be reduced.

SH! That is how sealions do it. It is a promise to tell you.

Low Water Will Reduce State Trout
Low water this year will prove disastrous to anglers who go out for small fry next season. Low water conditions, according to the California Fish and Game Bulletin, precluded a large take of rainbow trout eggs this year. At some of the best egg collecting stations, but small takes of eggs have been secured. It is pointed out that while some of the streams will be little affected, streams which depend largely on the planting of eggs to produce the necessary supply of small fry will not be supplied with trout.

S. P. OBJECTS TO DEMAND NOW FOR NEW FERRY

Objections of President William Spruille to the expenditure at the present time of $1,250,000 each for new ferry boats and $100,000 for ferry slips, brought the conference of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda representatives with Southern Pacific heads to a close today without reaching a definite plan for relieving the automobile, freight and passenger congestion.

President Spruille said that it would cost $2,250,000 to build a passenger ferry, $750,000 for a freight boat and $100,000 for a slip and that no adequate return on such an investment could be promised.

CONFERENCE HELD IN S. F.
The conference was held in the Southern Pacific general offices in San Francisco and was attended by Mayor Otis and City Engineer C. E. Hickok of Alameda; C. W. Foy of the Oakland Manufacturers' Association; J. T. Ealy of the Oakland traffic department; and City Engineer George Mattis; H. L. Hinman of the Draymen's Association, Supervisor Richard Welch of San Francisco, and President Spruille, F. M. Burkhalter, assistant general superintendent, and Captain C. F. Heath, superintendent of ferries of the Southern Pacific.

The Alameda representatives advanced the plan for the construction of a new pier there and the building of a three mile road from the pier to the foot of the Webster street bridge. This involved the diverting of two of the three estuary boats to Alameda on weeks days and all three on Sundays and holidays.

DRAYMEN OBJECT
The draymen's interests, represented by Hinman, vigorously objected to any of the ferries now landing at the foot of Broadway being withdrawn. Hinman said that the freight congestion, even with three ferries plying, is very great. The Oakland delegation proposed the construction of a new pier northeast of the present Oakland pier, connecting with the extension of Seventh street past Albers mill. The Southern Pacific officials objected that the ferries to reach such a pier would have to cross the paths of all other boats, increasing the danger of collision. The draymen objected on the ground that trucks and vehicles would have to cross the railroad tracks in the face of heavy train movements.

Supervisor Welch of San Francisco declared that the San Francisco bay region has outgrown ferries and that the time has come when Oakland must be connected with the peninsula by means of a bridge such as connects Brooklyn and Manhattan.

Oakland Elks to Turn Out at Hayward Farm Products Show

MISS DOROTHY LUCAS, Hayward girl, and one of bald-headed tumbler from Alan Curry lofts. The display of Hayward pigeons will be one of the notable features at the Farm Products Show which starts Thursday.

"Big Bills" Will Have Special Day Saturday; Exposition of Eden Township's Resources Starts Next Thursday With Special Program

HAYWARD, Aug. 10.—The Elks of Oakland are expected to make a big turnout Saturday at the Eden Township Farm Products show. The show, which is being held at the Eden Township fair grounds, is one of the largest of its kind in the county. The show will feature a wide variety of farm products, including dairy products, poultry, and livestock. The Elks are expected to bring a large number of their own products to the show, and they are also expected to have a special display of their own farm products.

In the recent Salvation army drive conducted by the Elks, Hayward was one of the leading contributors to the county and the turnout of the Elks will be in some measure an appreciation of that. The farm products show opens Thursday with an elaborate program. Eden township's products, including farm, orchard, factory, household and other outputs will be gathered in a glittering congress of elegant facts. In addition there will be many amusement events.

One of the big attractions will be the pigeon display. Hayward is fast becoming noted throughout the country as a pigeon producing center. The King Lofts, known throughout the country, and other lofts are located here.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM
In addition to the educational value of the general exhibits arrangements have this year been made for an educational program to cover the needs of the rural district of Eden township. The program is as follows:
Thursday, 8 p. m.—The community health nurse, Dr. A. Powell; 8:30, motion pictures on community health nurse; 9:45, Red Cross speaker, motion pictures on rural health and sanitation.

Wife Divorces Cafe Man; Cruelty Ground

Mrs. Bertha Heps, wife of William Heps, proprietor of a restaurant at 1753 Sixteenth street, today was granted a divorce by Judge Dudley Kinsell on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

According to charges and counter charges the short married life of the couple was a stormy one. They were married on May 7 and separated on June 20. Mrs. Heps charged her husband with a violent temper, with threatening to throw her out of the restaurant and with once beating her in their home at 1707 Peralta street.

Making counter charges in a cross-complaint, Heps declared his wife wanted to know how much money he had, and when he asked her if she married him for money she flew into a rage and kicked him. She also threatened to go to another man, Heps charged, and that she also surreptitiously took money from the cash register.

Young Woman Leaves Home, Friend Alarmed

Expressing fear for the safety of 22-year-old Lela Weber, who disappeared last Sunday night, Mrs. A. Kinsman, 438 Forty-ninth street, with whom the missing girl made her home, today called the police this morning for aid in the search.

The girl left home Sunday night saying she was going to Neptune Beach and that she would be home early.

When last seen Miss Weber was wearing a black coat, a white pleated skirt, a georgette waist and a large lavender hat. She is described as being pretty, with hazel eyes and auburn hair.

Ordinance Passed for Track Improvements

Provision for further progress in tracking improvements, being made by the City Council today, was made by the passage of an ordinance appropriating $4221.90 from the 1919-20 harbor appropriation of the general fund for the purchase of spur track materials for the department of public works. The materials are to be used to complete spur track facilities being installed to serve the Lawrence warehouse on the inner harbor along the quay wall.

Seattle Sportsman Is Barred By McCarthy

SEATTLE, Aug. 10.—President William H. McCarthy of the Pacific Coast Baseball League today ordered that Nate Raymond, well-known local sporting man, be barred from the ball parks throughout the league. McCarthy sent W. H. Kieper of the Seattle club a letter in which he stated that investigation of the present baseball gambling scandal prompted Raymond's being barred from all league parks. The action concerning Raymond is similar in nature to that taken against Hal Chase, former big leaguer, and now of San Jose, recently.

MAN CLAIMS MARRIAGE GREAT

CHICAGO.—George Zohora, 19, says Beatrice Jordin had him choose late sodas "full of dope," and that she knew they were married. He wants the marriage annulled.

WRECKED SHIP ADDS PAGE TO FISHERMEN WAR

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 10.—Another chapter was added to the Austro-Japanese fishermen's war when an unidentified fishing vessel, about 30 feet in length, was cast ashore through the breakers near San Juan Capistrano today.

Police officials, accompanied by fishermen, have gone to the scene to attempt identification of the boat.

Several vessels of the local and San Pedro fishing fleets are reported missing among them the Yamato, already partially identified in wreckage washed ashore here; the Primrose and Itsumata.

Damage Suit Filed in Store Purchase

After Walter H. Farley had furnished the money with which J. T. Stow and the Stow family purchased a drug store he decided he would like to own it himself, and called on the Stows to carry out an alleged agreement by which he was to purchase the store, but they refused according to Farley's action against them for $10,000 damages.

The drug store is at College avenue and Derby street, Berkeley. Farley, the complaint declares, loaned the Stows $15,000 on May 1 last, and was to have the privilege to take it over for not more than $15,000. He says he notified the defendants on August 2 that he was ready with his $16,000, but they repudiated the contract. He declares the place is worth $10,000 more than the amount he was to pay for it and that he has been damaged in that sum.

Sea Arrest Ordered in Trunk Murder

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—A wireless message was flashed today to the steamship Driven, now en route to Rio Janeiro, by the New York police to arrest a man who signed on as an "able seaman" at New York, if his description tallies with that of Eugene Leroy, alias O. F. Fernandez, wanted in connection with the Detroit trunk murder.

The New York police steadfastly refused all information other than that the arrest had been ordered.

The Detroit police authorities are working was furnished by a British sailor, who recognized a newspaper photograph of the suspect as being identical to the "seaman" who was making the sea trip "get away from America."

BALDNESS UNNECESSARY SAYS SPECIALIST

Average Man Pays Too Little Attention to the Care of the Hair and Scalp

Prof. John H. Austin, over 40 years a bacteriologist, hair and scalp specialist, who now has offices at The Owl Drug Co., points out some of the reasons for an increase in baldness among men.

Prof. Austin is probably right in saying that about one man in every hundred is bald, because he knows all, except to comb it two or three times a day. If it falls out he looks anxiously at the falling hair and promptly forgets it until the next time he uses a comb.

A man will give the utmost attention to his teeth, because he knows that when trouble arises he will have more trouble and probably lose his teeth if he doesn't go to a dentist promptly. But his hair doesn't ache, it just gradually dies, and when it is nearly gone and the roots are dead, he anxiously tries a dozen different remedies at once and then resigns himself to baldness.

Prof. Austin says the use of dangerous cures, mange cures and hair tonics is like taking medicine without knowing what you are trying to do. The particular trouble with which your scalp is afflicted must be known before it can be intelligently treated.

GENERAL WOOD ACTS IN STRIKE

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 10.—Major General Leonard Wood, here inspecting federal troops on strike duty, today took a hand in the controversy between strikers and the tramway company. He called Henry Silberberg, tramway union head; Frederick W. Hill, general manager of the tramway company and city officials to a conference this morning with a view to arriving at a complete settlement of the deadlock.

Indications were that the conference would be a long-drawn-out one, as union workers declare they will not work with strikebreakers, and tramway officials have refused so far to indicate what action they would take in giving strikers their former jobs.

Cars manned by strikebreakers were in full operation today. Inexperience of a motorman is believed to have been the cause of a head-on collision between two street cars during the forenoon at Seventh and Wadsworth streets, in which the motorman on one of the cars was reported seriously injured. Passengers were shaken up but all escaped injury.

METSON JURY IS EXPECTED TODAY

The trial jury for Wilfred G. Metson, University of California student, who is charged with failing to stop after his automobile struck down and killed Emil Peterson and seriously injured Anne Johnson, was expected to have been complete when court adjourned this afternoon.

At noon today the defense had exhausted seven of its ten peremptory challenges and the prosecution two of its five. None of the jurors so far examined has been excused for cause.

The trial did not start until late, owing to the presence of other business on the calendar and other delay. It did start was delayed by frequent lengthy consultations on the part of attorneys for both sides.

Tot Eats Firecracker, Causing His Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Bradford O. Sales, 15 months old son of Dudley D. Sales, attorney of 38 head-on collision between two street cars during the forenoon at Seventh and Wadsworth streets, in which the motorman on one of the cars was reported seriously injured. Passengers were shaken up but all escaped injury.

This is the second death in this city from eating firecrackers, the other victim being an 8-year-old boy.

FOX TROT AND WALTZ POPULAR WITH LAZY ONES

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 10.—The fox trot and the easier waltz steps cannot be supplanted, according to members of the International Association of Masters of Dance, which opened its 27th annual convention here yesterday. The dancer of today does not want to exert himself mentally or physically, hence the gradual demise of the rigorous steps.

Since the freakish steps began to wane, waltz and two-steps of ten years ago have been making a strong bid for a comeback, but it cannot be done, in the opinion of the dancing masters.

Approximately 300 delegates are attending the convention.

Seattle Sportsman Is Barred By McCarthy

SEATTLE, Aug. 10.—President William H. McCarthy of the Pacific Coast Baseball League today ordered that Nate Raymond, well-known local sporting man, be barred from the ball parks throughout the league. McCarthy sent W. H. Kieper of the Seattle club a letter in which he stated that investigation of the present baseball gambling scandal prompted Raymond's being barred from all league parks. The action concerning Raymond is similar in nature to that taken against Hal Chase, former big leaguer, and now of San Jose, recently.

Wife Divorces Cafe Man; Cruelty Ground

Mrs. Bertha Heps, wife of William Heps, proprietor of a restaurant at 1753 Sixteenth street, today was granted a divorce by Judge Dudley Kinsell on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

According to charges and counter charges the short married life of the couple was a stormy one. They were married on May 7 and separated on June 20. Mrs. Heps charged her husband with a violent temper, with threatening to throw her out of the restaurant and with once beating her in their home at 1707 Peralta street.

Making counter charges in a cross-complaint, Heps declared his wife wanted to know how much money he had, and when he asked her if she married him for money she flew into a rage and kicked him. She also threatened to go to another man, Heps charged, and that she also surreptitiously took money from the cash register.

Young Woman Leaves Home, Friend Alarmed

R. R. RATE TO RAISE AUGUST 26

Traffic officials of the Southern Pacific Company yesterday issued statements to clear up confusion in the public mind over the date and method of putting into effect the recently authorized increase in interstate passenger and freight rates. According to Freight Traffic Manager W. L. Luce, the general increase in rates approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, will be published August 26, and will apply to freight rates on originating points on and after the date mentioned. Freight rates actually in transit before midnight of August 25 will not be subject to the increase, regardless of the fact that before it arrives at its destination, the new rates have become effective.

Passenger Traffic Manager Chas. S. Rice stated that the 20 per cent increase in interstate passenger fares and the additional charge in sleeping cars, equal to 50 per cent of the Pullman rate, would apply August 26.

In the absence of definite word from the Interstate Commerce Commission, officials gave it as their understanding that round-trip or tourist tickets sold under the old rate would be good after August 26 in cases where the tickets had been partly used prior to the date mentioned, and would not be honored after August 26 unless so used.

Commutation tickets and the like, bought prior to August 1, 1920, will be honored within their limits, according to present understanding. Definite instructions as to the application of the new rates on round-trip and similar fares are expected within a day or two.

FREE RAILWAYS FOR OWN USE IS SOVIET'S ORDER

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—After Oct. 1 government shipments, consignments of authorized private merchandise and goods from nationalized factories will be carried free on railroads throughout Russia. Workmen and families on leave or changing their place of employment, invalids, students and workers en route to congresses will not be asked to pay for transportation.

Sellers of Bad Vegetables Fined

Selling potatoes in bad condition to the public cost two men, Ben Cohn and Louis Pasquale, vegetable vendors, $50 each this morning in the police court of Judge George Samuels.

The men were arrested by D. P. T. McDonald, deputy horticultural commissioner, yesterday after a large supply of potatoes they had in their possession were condemned. It is enough of a hardship on the public to pay the present exorbitant prices for potatoes, without being forced to pay for an inferior and scummy product," said Judge Samuels.

HUMOR PATHOS ROMANCE The ebbing of his hope drained his faith.

Copyright, 1920, by Doubleday, Page & Co. Published by special arrangement with the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

Restless, shifting, fugacious as time itself is a certain vast bulk of the population of the red brick district of the lower West Side, homeless, they have a hundred homes. They sit from furnished rooms to furnished rooms, transients forever—transients in abode, transients in heart and mind. They sing "Home, Sweet Home" in rhythm as they carry their lures and penates in a bandbox; their vine is entwined about a picture hat; a rubber plant is their dog.

Hence the houses of this district, having a thousand dwellers, have a thousand tales to tell, mostly dull ones, no doubt; but it would be strange if there could not be a ghost or two in the wake of all these transient guests.

One evening after dark a young man provided among these crumbling red mansions, ringing bells, and the twelfth he rested his lean hand on the door of a rooming house. The bell sounded faint and far away in some remote, hollow depths.

To the door of this, the twelfth house whose bell he had rung, came a housekeeper who made him think of an unwholesome, surfeited worm that had eaten its way to a howl and now sought to fill the vacancy with edible lodgers.

"Come in," said the housekeeper. Her voice came from her throat, her throat seemed lined with iron, she had the third floor back, vacant since a week back. Should you wish to look at it?"

The young man followed her up the stairs. A faint light from no particular source shone in the doorway of the hall. They trod noiselessly upon a stair carpet that its own loom would have forsworn. It seemed to have been laid down by a devil, generated in that rank, sunless air to lush lichen or spreading moss that grew in patches to the staircase and was viscous under the foot like organic matter. At each turn of the stairs there was a niche in the wall within them. If so they had died in that foul and tainted air, it may be that the stanzas of verses and corners, and found works and cigarettes, these he passed in passive contempt. But once he found in a fold of the matting a half-smoked cigar, and this he ground beneath his heel with a green and trenchant oath. He sifted the room from end to end. He found dreary and ignoble small records of many a peripatetic tenant, but of her whom he sought and who may have lodged there, and whose spirit seemed to hover, there he found no trace.

And then he thought of the housekeeper.

He ran from the haunted room downstairs and to a door that showed a crack of light. She came and he knocked. He smothered his exclamation as best he could. "Will you tell me, madam," he besought her, "who occupied the room I have before I came?"

"Yes, sir. I can tell you again. 'Twas Sprohls and Mooney, as I said. Miss Brelia Sprohls it was in the theater, but Miss Mooney she was my house, is well known for respectability. The marriage certificate hung on the wall over her door."

"What kind of a lady was Miss Sprohls—in looks, I mean?"

"She was a fine-looking woman, but she was a little short, and stout with a comical face. They left a week ago Tuesday."

"Why then was a single gentleman connected with the drapery business, and left her a week before he was Miss Sprohls and her two children that stayed four days, and then she was old Mr. Doyle, whose sons paid for him."

The ebbing of his hope drained his faith.

To Get Strong and Put on Flesh

People who have tried it say that one of the quickest and surest ways in which those who are weak, thin, nervous and run down can grow strong and put on pounds of solid flesh is to take a 5-grain tablet of Blood-Iron Phosphate with each meal. It is doubtless the best well known fact that Blood-Iron Phosphate quickly builds up depleted nervous energy and at the same time supplies the iron necessary to make rich red strength building blood. If you are weak thin, nervous or run down, take Blood-Iron Phosphate to last three weeks and take as directed. At the end of three weeks you don't feel one hundred per cent better and aren't every way satisfied you can have your money back for it today—Advertisement

Eastbay Belle Will Be Bride of New York Man

At 9 o'clock this evening, with only the immediate family present, Miss Louise Martin will become the bride of James C. Fulton of New York at the home of Mrs. Lucian Handy in Keith avenue. The service is to be read by an old friend of the family and a former pastor of the Christian church in Fruitvale, Rev. Robert McElroy, who is present plans to go. Rev. McElroy is expected to arrive from the south today.

Miss Louise Martin is to be her sister's only attendant and will wear a gown of pale green organdy with which she will carry an old-fashioned bouquet.

Clifford Brasfield will be best man. He is to be married in a white suit but will dispense with the usual white tie. He will carry a bouquet of the valley and lavender orchids.

A supper will be served following the service. The home is to be artistically decorated in the season's blooms with yellow and red flowers. The bride and her bridesmaids will spend their honeymoon in the Tahoe region, after which they will leave for New York, where the former's business is located. Mrs. James Fulton, mother of the bride, arrived yesterday from the east, having made a trip to the southern part of the state and Yosemite before coming to the bay region to attend her son's wedding. Mrs. Fulton will leave for the Yellowstone Park en route east, the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Carl D. Dethlefsen and her little daughter, Elizabeth, have returned from a summer in the Russian river country, to their home in this city.

Lightning Shocks Gladys Vanderbilt

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

The Way Dicky and Madge Got Started

"You misjudge me," Dicky called back over his shoulder as he led the way rapidly down stairs. "Never, never, will I desert Mrs. Micawber. Just obey me implicitly, and you'll sport an invitation to the women's motor corps before you're a month old."

There was a note beneath this merry nonsense that worried me. I saw that Dicky expected that under his tutelage I would grasp the intricacies of motor driving with unusual quickness, and I was aware that if I failed to come up to his expectations he would be both disappointed and irritated.

I think the intense nervousness which I later developed during my motor drive had its inception in Dicky's careless remark about the surety of my success in learning to drive. My husband, though often successfully concealing the knowledge when he is angry, yet, I have had reason to suspect, is inordinately proud of me, and attributes to me a degree of cleverness which I do not possess.

I knew that I would in no way reach the ideal of quickness and adaptability which he evidently had set up for me, and the knowledge made me quake inwardly as Dicky, with a smiling flourish, waved me to the driver's seat of the big machine which he and Alfred Durkee owned in common.

To add to my confusion little Mrs. Durkee came running down the side of the house and fluttered to the side of the car, all agog with excitement.

"Oh, Madge, are you going to drive?" she asked. "I didn't know you had learned!"

"I haven't," I returned, trying to smother my annoyance at her presence. "This is to be my first lesson."

"Do you mind if I go along, too?" I'm just dying to learn how to run the car, but Alf says I'm too short."

A smile almost escaped me at the vision I conjured of the little woman in the driver's seat of the big machine. She is so short that her feet cannot touch the brake or clutch, and her hands are like a child's in size.

But there was nothing to do save let him run down, so I bent my trained memory to the task of recognizing as much of his talk as I could gather, while I kept my eyes fixed upon his manipulations of brake and clutch. I had learned those two words some time before and I clung to them like "rocks in a weary land."

And then Dicky deftly turned the car into a long stretch of road which I knew from previous drives ham, wouldn't look pretty in the paper," she said. "But go ahead, Madge, say something."

I slipped out of the driver's seat decisively.

THE TIME ARRIVES.
"Not here, Dicky," I said resolutely. "I should climb Mrs. Durkee's steps with the machine if I ever tried it here. You drive till we get to some lonely road, and I'll watch everything you do, and you can explain things while we go along. I've got to get some things about it through my head before I put my hands on the wheel."

"Well, what do you know about that?" demanded Dicky crossly. "I learned to drive in a city street. You can't beat a woman for crankiness, anyway."

But he climbed into the seat I had left, and with a wave of the hand to little Mrs. Durkee, who sat valuable protests after us, the machine, under Dicky's hand, rolled smoothly down the driveway and along the road.

Dicky's skillfulness lasted only a few blocks, however. Then evidently forgetting, as is his wont, that he had any real or fancied cause for sullessness, he took up the conversation where I had left it.

"Now if you will listen carefully," he said didactically. "I'll explain to you the theory of this thing. The car is a machine, and it has a few terms which bewildered me, and of which I understood nothing. I had been watching him closely, and hoped that he would let me ask him questions as to the meaning of the different parts of the mechanism I could see, but my heart sank as he went on and on, stopping now and then to say: 'Do you see?' or 'Do you understand?' but fortunately for my veracity, not waiting for an answer."

For I knew what Dicky had not yet guessed, that the part of my brain in which any knowledge or understanding of machinery is supposed to be is an absolute vacuum.

If I learned to drive I would have to do so parrot-fashion, learning one thing at a time. I never could get any benefit from this farago of scientific terms which Dicky was airing.

Army Needs Printers, Editors for Germany

The army wants ten printers and editors to go to Germany at once to replace a like number of soldiers who are printing and editing the A. E. F. army paper on the Rhine. The present members of the editorial staff are coming home after almost four years in Europe.

Lieut. Col. Ode C. Nicholas, with recruiting offices in the Bacon building, made this announcement today. All ten applicants should have at least high school education; eight should be able to handle a typewriter, six of those should have had experience in newspaper reporting and four of these six should have had experience as desk men, one of which must have had experience as a city and news editor. A telegraph editor is also wanted. Practicable pressmen with ability to handle rotary presses are also needed.

Because of the difficulty confronting incoming teachers that of finding homes for the school year—the School Women's Club has taken the problem in charge and will endeavor to secure lodgings for all teachers who are unable to find places themselves.

Anyone having rooms with board, apartments, furnished and unfurnished rooms, is requested to notify the housing committee of the School Women's Club by calling Piedmont 1973, or by writing to the housing committee at 5216 Diamond street, Oakland.

CONNECTICUT IS URGED TO GIVE VOTE TO WOMEN

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 10.—A letter sent to Governor M. Holcomb by Will H. Hayes, chairman of the National Republican committee, in which he is urged to call a special session of the Connecticut legislature to act on suffrage, was made public yesterday.

Hayes declared that "your cause and that of the Republican party are few words." He then relates action on suffrage taken by the national convention and says:

"Individually and collectively, the effort of Republicans has been to secure ratification."

"Personally let me say that I am sympathetic with it," he adds.

Hayes asserts that the suffrage question is not a party question and that a legislative session is a small price to pay for a clearer political atmosphere. In conclusion he says:

"I urge ratification first in the hope of clearing the political atmosphere, second in the belief that the suppression of effective opinion works harm to the whole body politic, and finally, in the conviction that we owe immediate action as a measure of simple justice to American women."

POLITICAL SPOTLIGHT

DAYTON, O., Aug. 10.—Governor Cox today sent a message to Democrats in the Tennessee legislature urging them to vote for ratification of the woman suffrage amendment.

It was addressed to Miss Charles Williams, Democratic committee woman from Tennessee and declared that the Democratic stand in the forthcoming campaign will make it particularly strong appeal "to the hearts of the American women."

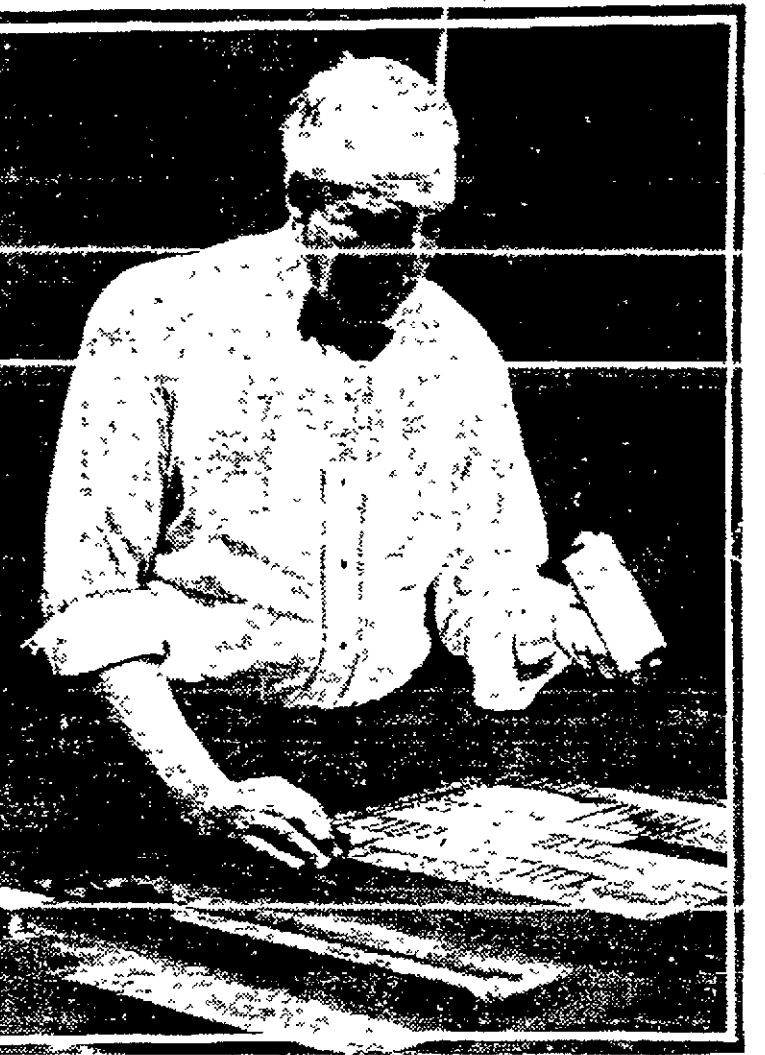

MARION, O., Aug. 10.—Various phases of the campaign were to be gone over today here by Senator Warren G. Harding, National Chairman Will Hays and Harry M. Daugherty, Senator Harding's pre-convention campaign manager and chief lieutenant.

The Senator is well satisfied not only with the progress his front campaign is making, but with reports he is receiving daily from all parts of the country as to the political situation in different states.

Auto Repair Shop Bayer Charges Fraud

Accusing C. H. Henderson of fraud, in misrepresenting to him that an auto repair shop at 5823 North Broadway street had a profit of $400 a month while in fact it only pays a profit of $100 a month, E. E. Studier has filed suit to compel Henderson to return $1500 paid on the purchase price of $3000 and for $500 damages. It is also alleged that Studier gave Henderson a note for $250 to be used for current expenses but that Henderson never used the money for this purpose.

SENATOR WARREN G. HARDING of Marion, Ohio, is sure of this job, even if, by any chance he should not obtain his lease to the White House and a position in the executive mansion. He is shown "putting the paper to bed" in his newspaper plant at Marion. Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Ruiz Charges Cantu With Camouflaging Mexico Revolt

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—The rebellion of Esteban Cantu, governor of the northern district of Lower California, is being used by that official to camouflage a revolution throughout Mexico, today charged Eduardo Ruiz, agent in Los Angeles of the Mexican provisional government and former governor of the Mexican state of Colima.

Cantu Ruiz declared was so confident he eventually would become "first chief of Mexico" that he already had appointed prospective high officers of his proposed government and even named many to occupy lesser federal posts.

Ruiz said centers of Cantu's plot were Mexicali, Lower California, the government capital at Mexico City, Los Angeles, Washington, D. C., and San Francisco and El Paso, Texas.

Mexicans and citizens of other Latin-American countries are involved in the alleged Cantu conspiracy, according to Ruiz, who promised to make it public in detail with names of the alleged conspirators as soon as more information reached him.

DIVORCED WIFE OF AUTO MAKER FLOATS IN RIVER

DETROIT, Aug. 10.—The body of the satin-gowned woman found floating in the Detroit river near Wyandotte, a suburb south of here, was identified today as that of Mrs. Margaret Callee, former wife of a Detroit motor manufacturer.

Mrs. Callee went automobile riding Sunday with two women. Beyond that the police have no clue to how she came to her death.

The body was identified by the woman's divorced husband and a son.

It was placed in the water after death as there was no water in the lungs, police say. Diamonds valued at $2500 were found on the fingers.

There were no marks of violence.

SCHOOL BUDGET IS DOUBLE LAST

A total budget estimate for this year of $4,529,614 with a total special district tax of $1,594, is contained in an estimate made by the Oakland school department, placed in the hands of E. F. Garrison, county auditor.

The whole budget is now in preparation by Garrison and will be presented to the supervisors Monday.

The estimate for the Oakland schools is nearly double that for last year, $2,645,000. The estimated tax also shows an increase from that of last year, $1,594, to $1,594.

The interest on bond issues, which was only 5 cents last year, but will be 10 cents this year.

DECKER, WHO FAVORED SIMS, PUT ON SHELF

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Captain J. L. Latimer, now attached to the Naval War College, Newport, R. I., has been appointed commandant of the seventh naval district with headquarters at Key West, Fla., succeeding Rear Admiral Benton C. Decker, who has been ordered to Norfolk, to serve on a permanent naval board of inquiry.

Secretary Daniels would not comment on the removal of Admiral Decker other than to say that it was routine. The admiral recently wrote and made public a letter to Chairman Hale of the Senate naval investigating committee, in which he severely criticized the administration of the Navy Department and suggested that the latter's row with the secretary.

Lightning Kills Stock, Paralyzes Man's Arm

GLOBE, Ariz., Aug. 10.—The Globe-Miami district was swept by a wind and rain storm yesterday which almost assumed cyclonic proportions. Tom Boland sustained partial paralysis of his right arm when he was struck by lightning. Several head of stock were killed by lightning. The grandstand at Midland City park was completely unroofed by the violence of the wind. Heavy rainfall which continued for almost an hour caused many washouts on roads in the district and impeded traffic to some extent.

Target of Vases, He Avers; Asks Divorce

Accused by his wife of flirting with other women on the street, Raymond C. Burton has sued for divorce. He also says his wife neglected her home and would fly into a rage, when she would throw vases and forks at him. Burton asks custody of an infant daughter and also the family furniture in their home at 1435 Ninety-third avenue. He is willing to pay his wife $25 a month alimony and give her permission to see the child, he says.

Wife Took His Newspaper, Is Divorce Suit Complaint

Trial of the divorce action of Mrs. Ellie J. Chouvaldy, who wears silk tongs, gathered at the ankle. Instead of sitting at the table, she fainted in the courtroom during argument on a motion for alimony, began before Judge E. J. Brown today.

Nicholas Chouvaldy, the husband who has filed a cross-complaint, charges that his wife fainted while drinking a harmless mixture from a glass and throwing herself on the floor, screaming and pulling her hair, but laughing at him when he went to her assistance and upbraiding him for not having given her medicine. Dan previously charged that Mrs. Chouvaldy frequently became angry at her without cause and left their home, remaining away for long periods, used profane language and otherwise mistreated her.

Chouvaldy testified today that when he arrived at home his affectionate greeting would be returned with an order to "go at once and stop the neighbors' hens cackling or to do some other unusual thing. He said she objected to his drinking water with his meals or crossing his legs when reading and that she would seize the glass while he was drinking and throw it away and place it on the floor when he had his legs crossed.

THREATENED SUICIDE
He said she would insist that he stop reading in the evening and go to bed and then would herself take the paper and read for long periods. He declared that once when she threatened to commit suicide and procured a razor he put it from her and she screamed, "Mother, he is murdering me!"

They were married in San Francisco October 29, 1925. There are no children. Mrs. Chouvaldy says her husband is proprietor of the Atlas Machine works at 3112 San Pablo avenue. He says he is merely manager. She asks for $39 a month alimony.

Rail Express Employees Get 30 Million Raise; Union Officials Accept

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Increases in wages to employees of the American Railway Express company, which will total approximately $30,000,000 a year, were announced by the railway labor board here today. About 15,000 employees will participate in the award.

The increases are effective as of May 1, 1930, and are to be paid to all who were in the service at that time. Those who have since left the service since that date will collect from the date of their employment.

The raise is a flat addition of 16 cents an hour to the pay of all classes of employees who come under the heading of employees and subordinate officials. Within the meaning of the transportation act the unions had demanded 25 cents an hour increase.

Union officials, waiting in Chicago for announcement of the award, declared after a preliminary examination of the announcement that the award would be accepted for the present at least. It will later be submitted to the membership of the four organizations affected through a referendum.

The four unions affected are the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers of America, the Railway Express Drivers, Chauffeurs and Conductors, Local No. 240 Chicago, and the Order of Railway Expressmen.

THE CLASSES ARE AFFECTED BY ACT
The classes of employees affected are listed as follows:

- 1—Agents, storekeepers, assistant storekeepers, chief clerks, foremen, sub-foremen and other supervisory forces.
- 2—Clerks.
- 3—Wagon automobile stable, garage, platform service employees.
- 4—Passengers handling baggage and helpers, guards and other train service employees.
- 5—All other employees except those coming under the jurisdiction of the agreement between the United States administration and federation shop crafts, dated September 20, 1917.

THE LABOR BOARD TO SETTLE DISPUTES
The increases will become incorporated in and a part of existing agreements with the unions. The award further provides that should a dispute arise between the management and the employees of a carrier as to the meaning or intent of the decision, it cannot be decided in conference between the parties directly interested such dispute shall be referred to the United States Railroad Labor Board as provided in the transportation act.

The award is signed by Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the board. Messengers and other employees in the nine services, whose hours are composed of 240 per month will be $38.40. All other employees work-

COX CAMPAIGN STARTS TOMORROW

By HARRY L. ROGERS
International Service Staff Correspondent.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 10.—A group of anti-suffragists at a conference last night tried to sway Governor James M. Cox away from suffrage ratification but they failed. Governor Cox told them he was going to stand pat.

Just before he started on a horse-back ride at 6 o'clock this morning through his estate, the Governor said that he would stand firmly with the women who were endeavoring to get suffrage across in Tennessee and that he was confident ratification would win. Then he jumped into the saddle and a spur to his mount.

The Governor's fine stallion, and started charging across the fields. He had a hard time to ride before breakfast and said he was getting himself in physical trim for the campaign.

The Governor said he would leave here Wednesday night and there would be no letup from that moment.

Governor Cox went this morning to a little booth at Carmont, near Fair's End, where he cast his vote in the primary night. He supported W. A. Tullian of Cincinnati, candidate for the Democratic nomination, for the United States Senate. Cox also marked his ballot in support of Vic Donahoe, the present auditor of the state of Ohio who is running this year for Governor.

He will spend Thursday night at Camp Perry and Friday night according to present plans he will start by automobile for Wheeling, W. Va., where he is scheduled to deliver two speeches on Saturday.

Phelan Goes South On Japanese Probe

To investigate alleged Japanese violation of the California anti-Japanese land laws and to boost for the adoption of the initiative measure which will prevent the Orientals from owning land in this State at all, Senator James D. Phelan has gone to Southern California.

The Senator will motor south by way of San Diego, stopping at many points to observe the inroads that have been made in the interior valleys. At Los Angeles Senator Phelan will confer with officials of the Los Angeles Anti-Asian Exclusion League.

OAKLAND MOVES TO FIGHT RAISE IN FERRY RATES

Any further increase in ferry transportation rates will be opposed by the city of Oakland, it was decided by the City Council this morning after hearing a report from H. L. Hagan, city attorney, on the present rate hearing before the State Railroad Commission.

A report introduced by W. J. Bowers, Commissioner of Revenue and Finance, after the reading of the report, was unanimously adopted by the commission, raising the Council's rate to $1.50 per trip.

The resolution, which was adopted, declared the policy of the city as being opposed to any increase in ferry transportation rates, and, if further resolved, that the city attorney be and is hereby directed to resist and oppose on behalf of the city of Oakland the granting of any such increase in rates.

CITY IS CONSIDERED
In his report, giving a resume of the status of the present rate hearing, Hagan merely laid the facts before the commission without recommending any action on the part of the city to determine what the city's policy should be in relation to accepting or opposing the increase proposed to go into effect September 1.

In a verbal statement to the Council Hagan declared that Leon Gray, assistant city attorney, was present last Friday at the Railroad Commission's hearing on rates and reported that there was practically no consideration given to the opposition of the cities to be affected by the move. During the Los Angeles hearing starting Wednesday, according to Hagan, the problems of Los Angeles only will be considered, with the probability that protests will be merely received and filed in view of the fact that the Railroad Commission is only carrying out an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

TWO PLANS OPEN
Hagan suggested that the city may combat the proposed ferry increase by opposing any increase until the railroads show that the individual ferry systems are entitled to increased rates, or may immediately demand the granting of a blanket increase of 20 per cent on all freight and passenger rates, including ferry fares, apply to the Railroad Commission for a hearing on the ferry rates alone.

The former proceeding, Hagan stated, would mean opposition not only to the ferry increases but to the general scheme outlined in the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision for the rehabilitation of the railroads, and would, if successful, suspend the effectiveness of the proposed increase.

Tribute Paid Dead Oakland Hero Who Saved a Comrade

Draped in flags and covered with flowers brought and laid there by the loving friends and relatives, who knew him when he marched away, the casket containing the body of Charles M. Hickox, private of the Sixth Division, who was killed during the last days of the decisive drive across the northern boundaries of France, and one of Oakland's own, stood in state in the reception room at an undertaking parlor all day.

Former friends came to pay tribute to the body of the hero, and relatives came in little groups, filing silently into the room to mourn the loss of a loved one.

MOTHER WAS PRESENT
The mother of the dead soldier, Mrs. Willie Hickox, 1164 Thirty-fourth street, Oakland, sat for hours by the body of her son, weeping silently. There was no ceremony, nor muffled drums—just a silent line filing past the casket.

This afternoon the funeral services were held. The services were simple, with music and words by a chaplain. Members of Oakland Post No. 1 of the American Legion, some of whom knew Hickox as a soldier, were present, and marched behind the casket to Mountain View cemetery, where there was a simple burial.

LEGION TO RITE
No expense will be shouldered by the mother. Although she insisted that she pay, the Legion refused to listen and contracted to pay for everything.

In the haste and bustle of a big city, too busy to remember for long those who made the sacrifice, few will know of course that the soldier who is being buried today volunteered to cross alone over a shell-swept area, to bring in a comrade who was seriously wounded, and few there are this day who will know that Hickox crossed back over the shell-swept area bearing to safety a man who stood silently beside the casket today, with bowed head and wept.

He was Sergeant Ray Guinimer of the Forty-fourth Infantry.

S. F. HONORS HERO
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—The casket containing the body of Alfred W. Wright, a San Francisco soldier, who died of wounds in France, stood in state in the rotunda of the City Hall yesterday from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 7:30 last night, while the flags above the Civic Center floated the wind at half mast.

The casket was brought into the hall by a group of American Legion men, all of whom had seen duty overseas. City officials received the casket in the name of the city of San Francisco. Seats were placed on one side of the casket where the parents and relatives sat all day. Two soldiers stood guard.

Funeral services were held this morning at 9:30 o'clock at a Mission street chapel. Native Sons of the Golden West and American Legion members had charge of the service. Wright had been decorated twice for bravery.

A reconciliation has been effected between the Westphal family of that name, and his wife, Mrs. Anna Westphal, who was sued for divorce two months ago on charges of cruelty.

The couple are living together again at their home, 744 Santa Clara avenue, Alameda, following a settlement of their differences, both temperamental and financial. It is stated that the divorce action will be dismissed at once.

M.E. MINISTERS ARE WANTED BY EASTBAY, SAYS AD

BERKELEY, Aug. 10.—Instead of having too many applicants as has been the custom in the past, the pulpits of Methodist Episcopal churches of the Oakland district may go preacherless during the next year.

Due to a dearth of "preacher material" for the pulpits, Dr. H. E. Stiles of Berkeley, superintendent of the Oakland district of the California conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, has been forced to advertise for ministers for the churches under his jurisdiction.

For three consecutive issues the following advertisement has appeared in a national church paper, telling the plight of the Berkeley minister to eastern students of theology.

"Wanted—Several well prepared young preachers, who feel the challenge of empire building in the west, where the nation's future lies. Greater opportunity in real life investment to be found. Address H. E. Stiles, 3033 Regent street, Berkeley, California. District superintendent, Oakland district, California conference."

The district in which Dr. Stiles "empire building" is to be done includes the cities of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Richmond, Alameda, Martinez, Tracy, Hayward and all of the smaller towns in the counties represented, some 41 churches in all. In just what sections the dearth of preachers will be felt, Dr. Stiles does not say.

The district superintendent is at present enjoying his vacation at Lake Tahoe and cannot explain his unique advertisement further.

The high cost of living and the low salaries paid clergymen is believed by other members of the ministerial profession to be the real cause of Dr. Stiles' trouble in filling his pulpits.

HUNTER DEFENDS PLAN OF GETTING BEST TEACHERS

The question of whether or not teaching should be "imported" from outside of California to Oakland's public schools was again tossed into the chambers of the Board of Education as the subject of a controversial resolution was introduced by Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter.

"I am not in favor of this discussion," said Mrs. Daisy Short, one of the directors, interrupting the reading of the report. "I am not attempting to bring this into the board."

Director Fred A. Campbell, who started the controversy several weeks ago in a campaign against the so-called importation of teachers, followed Mrs. Short by stating that there are more outside teachers on the present preferred list than ever before. Campbell demanded that he be supplied with a copy of the list of the best preferred list.

NOT LOOKING FOR VOTES
"I believe that any teacher educated in the United States is good enough for Oakland," declared Director E. V. York. "I am not looking for votes from Californians, as some of our members appear to be. It is time we stopped this quibbling and politics in the board."

The discussion was brought to an end when a motion was made and carried that Director Campbell should be furnished a copy of the list of the best preferred list.

Superintendent Hunter's report, which launched the discussion, showed that out of 1394 teachers entering Oakland in the past ten years, 1275 were from California, and that the percentage of importations this year was 2 per cent, while in past years the percentage has run as high as 19 per cent.

Among the outside teachers listed in the report were Superintendent Hunter, Miss Florence LaGanke, director of home economics, and J. E. Anderson, newly elected director of Americanization. The report was as follows:

BEST TEACHERS WANTED
"It is the policy of the Board of Education to bring to Oakland the very best teachers obtainable. That Oakland has a very high class teaching corps is proved by the standing of its schools, both at home, in the state, and in the nation."

"It is good policy to bring a teacher to Oakland if that teacher is especially equipped for a specific line of work, even if that teacher may be from outside the state. The best administrative authority in the country upholds the principle that professional inbreeding is prevented only by bringing the very best ideas on education to the school system from wherever they may be obtained."

"We believe that it is entirely consistent with the policy that is making Oakland a great and progressive city to import to Oakland the very best teachers from the outside. Such importation has been the policy in recent years during three administrations in the Oakland schools."

OAKLAND HAS BEST
"The best possible professional testimony," namely, the testimony of the University of California, Leland Stanford University, and the testimony of our distinguished State superintendent of public instruction, has been offered in the fact that Oakland has one of the best systems of choosing teachers to be found anywhere in the United States. This testimony was given in an open meeting of the Board of Education a few weeks ago.

"We believe that the Oakland children have a right to the very best teachers, and we shall continue to stand for the policy which gives Oakland's children the very best teachers. The books of the Board of Education and of the superintendent's office are an open record. Any one who chooses may have access to the public records of our office. The names of the teachers involved in this report and elected from outside by the method objected to recently by a member of the board will be published if desired."

CAMPBELL IS NAMED
The last paragraph of the report, referring to the method objected to by "a member of the board" was protested by Mrs. Short, who declared that, if the report were given the public believe that the objections came from her. As a consequence, and at the suggestion of other members of the board, the phrase was changed by the insertion of the name of Director Fred A. Campbell as the objecting member, with Campbell's consent.

The board last evening adopted a report of Superintendent Hunter recommending the election of the following teachers: Myrtle Palmer, penmanship supervisor; Clara Hotchel, drawing supervisor; Laura Woodbury, intermediate and Mary Borwell, physical training. Resignations were accepted from Earl W. Easton, principal of the M. Beck, Garfield school; Marjorie Porter, Leland school; Bessie Jordan, Laurel school; John E. Leones, preferred list and Leland Travere, preferred list.

The bid of the Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson Company for $219.96, for furnishing all sheet metal equipment to the department for the year, was accepted, and the American Wood Working Company will be given $4090 for machinery.

Stones Fists Fly in S.J. Cannery Fight

SAN JOSE, Aug. 10.—With a score of growers willing to make deliveries of ripe fruit, the big First street cannery of the Biscaglia Brothers was idle today as a result of the strike of 750 workers. More than 225 male workers walked out Saturday after their demands for a wage increase had been turned down and the women left the plant yesterday in a combative strike. The strikers refused to accept a compromise offer advanced by the cannery last night and voted to submit additional demands.

In their original ultimatum to the company they asked for the Welfare Commission's cannery wage scale of 57 1/2 cents an hour for eight hours, 12 cents an hour for overtime up to 4 hours and 15 cents an hour for all time over 12 hours. Last night they voted to ask that this scale be made retroactive so that the men would be paid on this basis for all work since June 1.

THROAT CUT, MAN SITS ON ASH CAN IN MAIN STREET

Sitting on an ash can in front of the Hotel Roma at Third street and Broadway this morning, Giuseppe Porteri, 27, an Italian, was found bleeding to death from a wound he had inflicted in his neck. The wound was so deep that the man's windpipe was almost severed. In Porteri's hand was the razor he had used. In the gutter lay $170 in bills where he had thrown them.

C. S. Jorgensen, patrolman, who was called, helped lift the Italian into an ambulance, after he had been induced to drop his razor. Porteri is now at the emergency hospital where he is reported to be.

East Bay Water Co. Is Paid By Oakland

The payment of $67,519.26 to the East Bay Water Company, for the services due the company for the public use charges, including the basic charge and adjustments for pipes and hydrants installed between January 1, 1917, and June 30, 1920, was authorized by the City Council today in an ordinance given final passage, appropriating the money from the fire department funds of the past year.

The public use charge, covering the last half of the fiscal year 1919-1920, was authorized under a rate established in a decision of the State Railroad Commission, granting the company a "stand-by" charge for being prepared to furnish the city with fire hydrant service. The charge was contested by the city and carried to the Supreme Court, which finally upheld the commission. Today's payment closed the long legal contest over the rate.

Twin Charges His Brother With Forgery

Charged with cashing a check that had been sent from home to his brother, who was in jail, James A. Hodge, colored, was on trial for forgery in the police court of Judge George Samuels this morning.

John Hodge, the twin brother of James, was the chief witness against him.

Several months ago John was arrested on a petty larceny charge and spent several weeks in jail. At that time James brought his mail to him. After he had been released, he learned that his father had mailed a check to him for $150. He had not received it. The trial was continued until August 30.

WOMAN GIVEN JAIL TERM FOR STRIKING HERO

SAN JOSE, Aug. 10.—A fine of $100 and three months' imprisonment in the county jail with no alternative was the sentence imposed by Justice of the Peace Brown on Miss Rose Hauselman, woman manager for Ferri's Basset street restaurant, after a jury had found her guilty of striking a police officer, a wounded soldier.

Fletcher is still in the hospital here undergoing treatment for wounds which are said to have been reopened by rough treatment given him by Miss Hauselman when he tendered a quartermaster's check in payment for a meal while on route from a San Francisco hospital to a Los Angeles hospital.

In case Miss Hauselman does not pay a fine of $100 she will have to serve an additional 60 days in the county jail, the justice decided. T.

CHINESE FEAR TONG OUTBREAK AT SUNNYVALE

MAYFIELD, Aug. 10.—At the request of Chinese working at the Bayside cannery, near here, the town marshal has posted deputies here to watch the plant and incoming trains.

A tong war has opened, the local Chinese claim, and they refused to work until the guard was posted. No information was given out as to where the hostilities started or the names of the tongs involved.

Economy, a partner of the woman, is also under arrest and will be placed on trial Wednesday. The trial attracted wide attention here through participation by the local post of the American Legion in the prosecution following an investigation of the soldier's story. The prosecution was conducted by Assistant District Attorney Percy O'Connor and City Attorney Archer Bowden, both members of the American Legion, while the defense was handled by Attorney Louis King.

The defense sought to prove that Fletcher tried to pay for meals of two companions with the quartermaster's check, as well as his own.

BURGLARS REAP LARGE HARVEST

The police were busy today investigating burglaries reported last night in many portions of the city. Hotel thieves secured the master key that unlocked the doors of all the rooms in the Victoria Hotel, 717 Clay street, and then entered twenty rooms. From each room bedding and equipment was taken, and it is thought that the thieves put their loot into a waiting car.

The police believe the multiple burglary was committed by persons living in the hotel and a rigid investigation is under way this morning. The loss is estimated at several hundred dollars.

A GOOD COMMITTEE.

Mayor Bartlett of Berkeley has created a strong and representative organization in constituting the Committee of Twenty-one to take over the study of the problem of city and county consolidation. This committee has been named in conformity with the decision of the conference of municipal officials and representatives of business and civic organizations in Oakland last Thursday evening. Mayor Bartlett has so selected members of the committee that every municipality and the outlying districts are fairly represented.

The members are prominent and trusted citizens of their respective communities and will fill adequately the role of authoritative spokesmen. They are also known for their interest in matters of community progress and will bring to the discussions of the subject of consolidation just the quality of knowledge, earnestness, vision and loyalty to the best interest of the Eastbay district that is required for the safe and intelligent handling of this important project.

Unquestionably this Committee of Twenty-one is conscious of the responsibility that now devolves upon it. It is aware of the fact that all the citizens of the county look to it for accurate information and sound advice. It may be expected to take up its labors earnestly, but with proper caution against immature decisions and unwise action. It will take adequate time to study every angle of the question, knowing that in this way it will gain and justify the confidence of the public.

One of the first acts of the committee certainly will be to study the legislative act enabling consolidation of the county and municipal governments, to ascertain what effect, under all possible circumstances, will follow an election to pass on a consolidation proposal. It will determine whether it is possible that such an election might result in county division.

Then it will be expected to examine all the suggested plans of consolidation and try to formulate a plan which will be acceptable to all the municipalities and the outlying districts. It will be obliged to take up this phase of its labors with the knowledge that unless such an acceptable plan can be presented consolidation will be impossible and any special elections will be a futile waste of public funds.

Business principles and methods have now been applied to this project. All sections and districts have been brought together in competent representation to discuss and study the project and to furnish the general public with all the information possible. This committee means that the subject of consolidation will be considered in the broad light of day, for the benefit of all the citizens of the county. It has brought the subject out of the darkness in which private interests attempted to use it for their special advantage and to serve small, individual egotisms.

The TRIBUNE commends Mayor Bartlett of Berkeley on his selection of the committee. It is a good committee, admirably representative. It commands the respect and confidence of the public, which THE TRIBUNE is sure it will have in complete measure.

THE NEW SHIPPING TERMINAL.

Formal opening of the Parr Terminal on the western waterfront today is a happy reminder to the people of the Eastbay district that important new facilities have been added to the shipping and rail transportation business of Oakland. This terminal scheme is drawn on a large and comprehensive scale and the first unit, completion of which is celebrated today, is a most valuable community possession.

This first unit of the Parr terminal consists of 5000 lineal feet of operating wharves, a concrete warehouse over 500 feet long, and all necessary equipment of modern loading and unloading machinery for ships and cars. Railway switches have been extended to the wharves and warehouse. They connect with the three transcontinental railways terminating in Oakland. The wharves and harbor are capable of accommodating the largest Pacific Coast liners. Rail borne freight may thus be transferred directly to ocean carriers, and vice versa.

It is proper that all the Eastbay district, especially the people of Oakland, should feel and express, according to their opportunities, deep appreciation for the promoters and builders of this new terminal. They have met an urgent need on the part of business, industry and commerce on this side of the bay and they have had to work under many difficulties. Scarcity of labor, difficulties in obtaining deliveries of material, and costs of both labor and material, have worked real hardships and caused some delays. But they have stuck to the job, spending a large amount of capital, and they have made good.

This new terminal will, it may be expected, mark only the beginning of active development of the western waterfront. There will be new industries located there and new wharves and warehouses for the accommodation of both land and maritime commerce. It is the most important contribution yet made to the development of the harbor facilities of Oakland and more is to follow.

ENGLAND NOT PLEASED.

Great Britain is almost unanimous in denouncing the new American merchant marine law. Government officials have condemned many of its provisions, diplomats have presented formal protests against its application and British shipping men, insurance companies and journals have complained against it as being retaliatory and discriminatory. All of these manifestations may be described in a single sentence: They are England's disappointed and frightened outcry against America's program for achieving and maintaining independence of American maritime trade.

Among the provisions of the Jones Act which Britishers call "discriminatory" is that prescribing the form of returns of insurance companies engaged in maritime business. This clause, says a writer in the London Sunday Observer, has been designed for the purpose of learning every iota of business transacted by foreign companies, with a view to passing the same on to American concerns. The clause which waives in favor of American insurance companies the Sherman anti-trust law is also condemned by this champion of British supremacy of the seas.

It was fully expected that when the government and the American people got around to the point of establishing independence of foreign shipping interest there would issue howls of protests from the foreigners. Independence will mean that the invisible balance of trade will not go entirely against us, as it has done in the past. Revenue from freight rates, marine insurance and port landing charges have in the past amount considerable revenue to Great Britain, probably one and one-half billion dollars annually. This revenue from "service" has often offset an apparently unfavorable balance of trade. It has been something in which there has been only insignificant competition in the United States and which has given England a big advantage over every maritime nation.

Naturally the thought that America will carry her own marine insurance, as well as transport her commodities of maritime trade, is disturbing. Consequently there has issued from England specious complaints and charges of unfairness, silly for their absolute falsity. Threats of retaliation also have been uttered. Both Great Britain and Japan have served warning through informal channels that they will withdraw service of their shipping lines from American Pacific Coast ports if the law is carried into effect. But if the State Department and the Shipping Board will perform the duties imposed by the shipping act these threats may be faced with equanimity.

One Britisher, however, gives good advice to the United States, when he says: "We in this country (England) know that we are to be faced with the most bitter competition for the supremacy of the seas which we have ever had to meet. We are in for a big fight, but before America can win the fight she must create a national feeling for a mercantile marine."

The last sentence is the absolute truth. Popular interest and popular and business patriotic sentiment is a necessary backing to the new merchant marine. There will be times and occasions when American business and shippers will have to forego profits and show extraordinary exertions in the interest of this new possession. But it is believed that the "feeling" for a mercantile marine has already been created and that it will show permanence and a spirit to exact victory.

Colonel Frank B. Blunt, Chicago railway man, who has just returned after a year and a half of service with the Stevens railway corps in Siberia, is of the opinion that Germany and Japan are planning an alliance. These countries may not be "planning" an alliance, but unless they reform their conduct and the spirit of their dealings with other nations they will be forced into association which every other nation of the earth will regard with contempt. They will stand alone against the righteousness and honor of the world.

"Panchito" Villa has indeed proven that professional and prolonged banditry pays well in Mexico. The emoluments which we will enjoy from the Mexican government, at the expense of the Mexican people, as a result of his "surrender" to President De la Huerta will amount to about $2,000,000 in U. S. currency. The promise of Mexico that Villa would be punished for his high crimes against the United States will not be kept.

NOTES and COMMENT

Amazing things are happening in up-country towns. A despatch from Nevada City tells of a cow turning the water faucet with her horns. Tradition has always left this to the milkman. If the cows are now educated to it possibly it is the latest trend in the milk business.

Those who in one way and another dodged the draft during the war, and when the armistice was signed exposed they had got away with it, will be somewhat perturbed to learn that the list of slackers is to be published. It contains the surprising number of 173,911 persons who failed of their duty to their country.

There seems to be a lot of written political history which is preferable now in establishing the status of William Kent to his campaign denials and explanations. A man's record as established by his actions and expressions during times when he was not camouflaging his real sentiments is more reliable data than his assertions while running for office.

Here's a despatch to the effect that there is a glut of farm labor in South Dakota. The dire predictions that were made of such a scarcity that farm products would not be harvested evidently lacked foundation. Many scares are that way, giving emphasis to the saw about not crossing the bridge till you get to it.

Only to think that the demand for grapes exceeds production, according to a despatch from Washington, and that this was brought about by prohibiting the use of grapes in the time immemorial! It is a great economic anomaly.

A despatch from Redding tells of a bucket of milk being effective in extinguishing a fire. Until the comment of the Searchlight arrives we shall ruminate upon the extravagance of these up-country people.

There is ground for saying the League of Nations idea is a failure. The spectacle of so much of the world being at war is enough to justify it. But this very fact is to be employed as a campaign argument. It will be contended that if the President's plans had not been thwarted the present conditions would not exist. The previous answer is that the conditions that have fallen mainly upon the United States would have necessitated the shouldering of too much of the world's trouble.

These State roads are so nice and smooth that injury to them is invited by overloaded trucks. It suggests that modern road building might be so thorough that such injury would be impossible.

The Fresno Republican isn't suited with the Democratic exemption, either. We have long known that the Democratic party was dead, but this is the first time it has been officially acknowledged."

Dire possibility suggested by the Richmond News. "If we keep on changing and reforming at the rate we are going, it won't be long until the profiteers will form a union and have all the rest of us arrested and properly punished."

A WOMEN'S QUARREL AND A NATION'S NEED

To the Editor of The Tribune:

On one of our ferry boats recently I sat near a couple of women, the elder of the two a woman of perhaps 45, was in earnest conversation with her companion. Both women were greatly exercised and were showing considerable heat and were greatly agitated. I admit having subjected my sense of hearing to a rather severe strain to catch the gist of the conversation and I succeeded. It appears that from the conversation, which amounted to a rather heated discussion, it was learned that the two women were in a quarrel.

These two women were but two of many millions of men and women in our country today who do not seem to realize that they owe their country and themselves and posterity a duty, an immediate and pressing duty. To lay aside petty quarrels and contentions, to devote themselves to the work of harmonizing the conditions existing since the close of the World War; to help to swing the pendulum back to normal with the regular rhythmic motion, without exaggeration or extreme; to work to the ends that the human minds of today all more or less abnormal by reason of the great pressure put on them during the war, be led back to the normal, to work, all together, laying aside petty strifes and contentions, and work to the end that our own, the best country on God's earth, again become the land of promise to the young and growing, and the land of hopes realized to the mature and aged.

Myself, God! While there is a country our neighbor, where it seems that Satan bid by all that Satan could put into human hearts has done his worst, and while here in our country where it seems that God has done his best—two women should quarrel over the small grain of sand blown from the top of the Twin Peaks into the Pacific Ocean.

ODE C. NICHOLS.
Oakland Aug. 9, 1920.

The paper I had handed her was one given to me in Siberia, and an authority which I believe to be absolutely reliable, was said to be a true copy of the order issued by the Reds, in the Spring of 1917, federalizing the women and girls of Russia.

When my attention was first attracted by the conversation between the two women on the boat, my mind flew to Russia, and I saw again a picture of such political, economical and social devastation as the world has never before beheld, and by the telling of the story may the world never again see such a picture. I saw the farms idle and the children in rags; I saw men and women drunk with "Independence and Liberty." Licence and personal inclinations ran riot; nobody worked; that which any man or woman could get was his or hers by right of possession. A million women busied themselves because the husbands had gone to war; three million children fatherless because few, if any, had returned. Three years is a long time and small mouths must be fed, and adult human bodies seem to require human companionship; hence, possession of women in thousands of cases was temporarily affected by the physical defects, the old and decrepit; more children were being born to these couples, more lives created and that in a land where to all intents and purposes there was no law, no God and no religion. In my mind, as I listened to these two women talk and rave over a few votes—I saw the homes in Russia burning; saw the father fight to save his family; saw the 15-year-old daughter flee, dragging with her her eight-year-old brother; saw the mother faint and fall and be there, the tide of Reds was too strong for her physical strength, her body too old for their physical needs; I saw the father try to drag her with him; saw him scan the seething mass of humanity about him for his daughter and son; another look at the unconscious wife and his mind went out; I saw the girls over 18 and the women under 40 listed, surveyed and appraised, just as the pigs and goats were listed and valued. In my mind's eye I saw that whole central vest, arm part of Russia, where terror reigned, and saw the smoke from burning homes and heard the shrieks

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Thyroid Gland Treatments a "Cure" for Stomach Ulcer

By Dr. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

When that Pandora's box of blessings and mischief—the thyroid gland, which is about your Adam's apple—falls to do its full physiological duty, you are in danger of becoming fat, dull, mentally sluggish, dry-skinned and now, according to four reported patients of Dr. Joseph Katz of Brooklyn, to have ulcers and superacidity of your naturally acid stomach.

Ulcers of the stomach and upper intestine are troublesome sores in their wallpaper-like linings. Their formation is sometimes a mystery. They have been ascribed to self-digestion, boils, infection and to various causes.

Now, for the first time, Dr. Katz maintains that too little activity of your thyroid may be the source.

One patient had the digestive juices of her stomach analyzed and it was evident that more than enough acid was produced, and signs of ulceration were present. A physical examination, blood tests and other objective studies all appeared to point to some deficiency of her thyroid. In automobile parlance her various gland cylinders were active except the thyroid. She was "not hitting on all six."

Thereupon an experiment and with no expectation that her "accidental ulcer" would be improved, Dr. Katz began the use of thyroid injections.

Miraculous to tell, not merely her thyroid symptoms, but the stomach ulcer, disappeared. This was, so to speak, an "unexpected pleasure," if not a discovery. At once the physician sought three other victims of ulcer and hyperacidity.

Another was found, a young mother of four children, whose excessive stomach acid and ulcer were unrelieved in any way by the usual treatments with alkalis. She was given only half a grain of thyroid mixed with a cake of compressed yeast. Needless to tell, her gastric affection was soon a thing of the past.

A furrier, who suffered for two years previously with a periodic pain in the pit of his stomach, which was relieved by food, was found by X-ray photographs to have a deep volcano-like ulcer of the stomach. An operation was advised, but some consultants were convinced it was a cancerous ulcer, so the patient refused to have a surgeon because he was in such general poor health.

He failed to improve until he was placed upon thyroid inoculations. It is possible that fresh sheep's thyroids would have answered. However, he began to mend at once and his pain and heartburn soon ceased. It is now a well man and "it as a frolic."

The thyroid gland is as mysterious and as full of prophecy as the oracle of Delphi, but you dare not be its priest. Only a trained physician with much knowledge of its dangerous attributes or its beneficent doses dare tangle with such a substance. See a good doctor about its use.

R.R. RATE INADEQUATE, SAYS KEY ROUTE

SYSTEM SEEKS INCREASE OVER 20 PER CENT

The San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railroad today asked the State Railroad Commission for an order readjusting its traffic affairs between San Francisco and Alameda county points. Application is directed exclusively to the interurban transbay service in what is known as the "Key" division. It does not involve the "traction" division, which carries street car passengers between points in Alameda county and Contra Costa county.

Declaring that even the increased rates of fare granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission, which it put into effect by the roads in this state will increase the fares on the S. P. ferry by 20 per cent, will not prove adequate in the case of the Key Route, the company asks the California Commission to grant a rate substantially in excess of the amount granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

A one-way fare of 15 cents, such as is provided by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its recent order, would be cumbersome and impracticable to the Key Route and to the public, it is declared.

MONTHLY LOSS, CLAIMED
In a statement accompanying the application the Key Route officials claim that for the thirty months ending June 30, 1920, there has been a deficit of $730,550.40, the deficit for the six months ending June 30, 1920, is given as $64,928.25. It is claimed that the result of the two rate increases granted the company by the commission, one in 1918, and the other in September, 1919, is as follows:

"Six months ending December 31, 1918, as compared with the same six months of 1917, gross operating revenue increased $75,588.72; actual operating expenses increased $118,442.35.

"Six months ending June 30, 1919, compared with the same six months of 1918, gross operating revenue increased $106,196.19; actual operating expenses increased $147,688.65.

"Six months ending December 31, 1919 (which included the second rate increase), compared with the same months for the year 1918, gross operating revenue increased $130,818.92; actual operating expenses increased $87,212.78.

"Six months ending June 30, 1920, compared with the same six months of the year 1919, gross operating revenue increased $135,407.50; actual operating expenses increased $104,382.29.

The company claims that the items which go to make the operating expenses show a steady and rapid increase. It also asserts that during the entire 24 months' period in which the higher rates have been collected the increase in gross operating revenue totaled $199,111.32. The total increase in actual operating expenses was $448,325.57.

To the expense amount the company says should be added a state tax of 1.5 per cent on the increase in gross operating revenue amounting to $20,903.34 and actual cash set aside in depreciation fund in accordance with the commission's order aggregating $75,292.83.

These figures, there has been a net decrease, therefore, of $45,580.48.

The company estimates that the increased wages of train men will amount to $195,700 a month, in addition to other maintenance costs.

INCREASES ITEMIZED
In basing its contention that the proposed increase is justified, the company submitted a report embodying items which are declared by the company to establish the steady and rapid increase in its operating expenses. The average monthly cost of fuel for ferriesboats, according to the company, range from $3584 in September, 1917, to $12,549.97 last month.

The average monthly cost of wages paid to trainmen was fixed at $12,471.83 in September, 1917, gradually increasing to $22,222.33 last month. Wages paid to conductors, crews aggregated $5818.21 in April, 1917, and amounted to $16,386.85 last January.

Other increases noted by the company are station men, and landing hands, $210 per month; boat repair men, $148.96 per month; electric tower, $2856.16 per month, and fuel oil $529.83.

WHIST PARTY PLANNED
A whist party will be held by Piedmont Parlor No. 87, N. D. G. W., tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. in the Nevada Sons Hall, Eleventh and Clay streets for the purpose of enlarging the "9th of September fund" to be used in the celebration of Admission day.

The affair of the parlor is to be held this year in San Francisco. Mrs. Margaret Carty is chairman of the whist tourney.

The expense of remodeling is of an surprisingly small.

Police Hunt Man Accused of Abducting Pittsburg Girl, 14

SPIRO PETTAS and MARIE SCHOFIELD, Pittsburg girl, he is alleged to have abducted.

Warrant Charges Man With Forcibly Taking Sweet- heart from Her Two Brothers

Spiro Pettas, who is alleged to have abducted Marie Schofield from her two brothers at the Pittsburg station, Sunday morning, and outwitted officers as he fled with her to Oakland, is believed to be still in hiding here today.

A close watch kept on the marriage license bureau in Oakland, San Francisco, San Jose, Redwood City and other nearby county seats has failed to reveal the issuance of a license.

Constable W. J. McDermott of Pittsburg said today that as far as the girl was concerned he is certain that she was willing to go with Pettas and had arranged with him to take her from her brothers Sunday.

The brothers were about to take the girl to the station when she was taken away from them. The abandoned car, which belonged to Dannie Pappas of Pittsburg, in which Pettas took his flight, was found Sunday night in front of the Panagiotis theater in Oakland.

Pettas entered a restaurant and asked the proprietor to telephone to Pappas where his car could be found.

Pettas is described as five feet six or seven inches tall, 23 years old, with dark hair and smooth shaven. The girl is 14 years old and has dark hair. A warrant is out for the arrest of Pettas.

IRRIGATION HELD BLAMELESS IN ANTIOCH ACTION

If all of the water that is taken from the Sacramento river for the irrigation of rice fields should be dumped back into the river at Sacramento City, there would be no material change in the salinity of the water in the San Joaquin river at Antioch. This was the chief statement contained in an affidavit of Major George Wadsworth, United States army engineer, read today into the record of the hearing upon the petition of the City of Antioch for an injunction restraining the irrigationists of the Sacramento Valley from making further diversions of water from the Sacramento river until the riparian rights can be adjudicated.

Wadsworth deposed in part as follows: "If all of the diversions were discontinued, the Sacramento river's discharge past the city of Sacramento would be about 3500 feet. While this amount would materially freshen the water in the lower Sacramento river and to a lesser extent the upper portion of the Suisun bay, in my opinion no material change would occur at Antioch."

SLOUGHS EXPLAINED
This was in answer to the contention of Antioch that the diversion of the water has resulted in the water at Antioch, which is situated upon the San Joaquin, being so salty that it is unfit for human use. Antioch contends that the city has prior riparian rights to many of the irrigators upon the Sacramento river. One of the bases for her riparian rights upon the Sacramento is laid down on the ground that by means of interconnecting canals, waters from the Sacramento pour into the San Joaquin.

In regard to this contention, Wadsworth's affidavit contains a report of a survey which revealed that during a tidal cycle in a summer month more water poured from the San Joaquin into the Sacramento than was found Sunday night in front of the Panagiotis theater in Oakland. The balance in favor of the Sacramento river was 227 second feet. Continuing, he averred that even if the flow of water from the city of Sacramento was raised to 3500 second feet, the flow through these sloughs still would be in favor of the Sacramento river.

In another affidavit by an engineer at Antioch, which was read into the record, it was stated that the river's discharge at 3500 second feet the amount would be only one-tenth of the amount needed to prevent the back wash of the tide up the San Joaquin river.

SALINITY TRACED
In the affidavit of Engineer C. E. Grunty he sets forth that one of the big reasons for there being such a large salinity in the San Joaquin river at Antioch is the fact that 1760 second feet of water is diverted from the San Joaquin river into the delta region for irrigation purposes.

Continuing, he avers that the fact that waters from the San Joaquin enter the Sacramento through the interconnecting sloughs and the lack of heavy rains and snow storms of recent years are further factors in the presence of salt water at Antioch.

Albert Raymond, counsel for the Alameda Sugar company, during an interview today stated that as far as

Boy, Dog's Bones, Imagination, and Lo, Tale of Crime

A boy's desire to terrify a friend with a "Buck Finn" story of dead men's bones, a dry gulch and a lonely path gave William Veale, under-sheriff of Martinez, several hours of labor last night and was responsible for considerable activity on the part of the Oakland police. The bones proved to be those of a dog.

It was Ray Hansen, 12, who told Captain Bock the story of a body crammed in a box and beside a dry creek between Martinez and Richmond. The sheriff of Contra Costa County was notified and investigation made.

With Hansen on his walk when the bones were discovered, was Ralph Driscoll, 819 Alameda street, who has admitted that he knew all the time that the bones were those of a dog.

YOUTH PLEDGES TO SHUN RUM

The promise of William L. Underwood, 21 years old, of 562 Fairview street, Oakland, never to touch "demon rum" again, won him his freedom this morning when he appeared before Judge Robert Edgar, at Berkeley, charged with being intoxicated while riding in an automobile driven by J. J. Mingham, also of Oakland. Underwood refused yesterday morning to tell Judge Edgar where he had obtained the liquor on Sunday evening, and was held under $100 until he furnished the desired information.

This morning he informed the judge that he had bought three drinks at 30 cents apiece from Gibbs Dyeing Company, a "Sixty-eighth" street and San Pablo avenue.

"You are a nice looking young man," said the judge, "you ought to know better than to act this way. If you will promise never to touch a drink again I will let you go."

"I promise," said Underwood.

GAGGED GIRL IN FURIOUS BATTLE WITH KIDNAPERS

Seized by four men late last night as she walked at Thirty-fourth and Adeline streets, and started home at 10:30 o'clock, she told the police she noticed an automobile followed her for several blocks. At Thirty-fourth street the car drew up to the curb and the men leaped out. Miss Wagner said she tried to run but the men caught her and dragged her back to the car, the engine of which was running.

Thrown into the tonneau she was gagged by three of the men, she said. Before the gag was forced into her mouth, the girl said, she screamed several times, but the car was driven away at a high speed. Frightened after they had slugged the girl, the men held a hasty consultation.

"Let's run for it and let the little cat go," one of the men was heard to say, according to Miss Wagner's story to the police. They went to their car and drove away at high speed.

Dazed from the struggle, Miss Wagner wandered for some time before she encountered anyone who would help her. Finally she met a woman. A passing car was stopped by the woman. It was driven by Marshal Ed Carey of Emeryville. Carey rushed the girl to her home and then notified the police. A physician found the young woman's condition serious.

The police believe they have a good idea of the identity of the four men who kidnaped the girl.

Blessed be the ties that bind. But I sure was angry when I woke up on Sunday morn' and on my dresser found a dozen ties so spick and span.

I looked them over one by one and there was none worth less than three good iron men—that made me sore—she never bought my ties before—though I will say, my wife had shown good taste.

Then came my wife and all afanter, she read my mind just like a book. "No, Joe, the American took these on Broadway. They cleaned them and they pressed them, for less than cost of one new tie you have the whole lot where they lie."

I thank you for today.

is concerned he would not oppose the adjudication of the water rights. But, he says, must come. But the question for an injunction restrains the defendant from doing the thing which is enjoined, he says, is the point of controversy.

MANY FACTORS BLAMED

A lengthy affidavit by Melvin C. Ozoezer, Jr., general manager and chief engineer of the state reclamation board, was read and the following factors were cited as the following reasons for the salinity in the water:

Antioch:

The lack of heavy storms and snow in the Sacramento watersheds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers during the last three years.

The lack of storage reservoirs to store water.

The establishment of reclamation districts which now prevent the

The unhooking of the river by the Corps of Engineers, however, was the diversion of water for irrigation purposes. The Corps says that the diversion of water for irrigation purposes on a small item and that the amount of water thus diverted is only one percent of the total flow of the river. The Corps also says that the diversion of water into the San Joaquin River at the tide twice daily.

Dozier further stated that the Corps of Engineers has the Corps of Engineers Slough are the only two interconnecting sloughs between the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers. He said that the Corps of Engineers has a little water runs from the Sacramento river to the San Joaquin River through the Three Mile Slough, which is a little of the water from the Sacramento Slough during the low water period.

During the latter thirties it is believed that the river at Antioch in 1939. Continuing it is held that the hydraulic mining during the twenty years following the 1917-18 flood was four times as much as that which occurred prior to that time. It is estimated that the tide could not sweep away the debris of the hydraulic mining during these twenty years it was estimated that the fill amounted to 100,000 cubic feet. It is estimated that the river during these twenty years it was over five feet. Now it is estimated that the mining has been stopped and the river unclogged. It is estimated that the river is now in the same condition as it was in 1917-18. It is estimated that the river is now in the same condition as it was in 1917-18. It is estimated that the river is now in the same condition as it was in 1917-18.

When the charge was fully denied, Schumann, who demanded that Greene present to the board the best evidence in his charges, Greene qualified his statement and said that he did not appear that the trustee had lied out.

Greene represents the delta landowners in their suit against the rice growers.

Greene explained that he has used his charges on the affidavit in Oakland yesterday by G. Schumann, who is a trustee of the rice growers.

In this affidavit, some things that Schumann is said to have said to Chamberlain are as follows:

THE PRESIDENT

The affidavit says Schumann said to Chamberlain that Greene is providing the rice suit for his own benefit, and that the rice growers, if they are to be successful, would have to pay the rice lands suit. (Did they have the suit of the board closed?)

THE BOARD

The Chamberlain affidavit says that Schumann made other statements to the trustees, Green prepared a prepared affidavit which he presented to Schumann to sign. This document would be a denial by Schumann of the allegations contained in the Chamberlain affidavit. However, the Green papers show Schumann said he would investigate the Chamberlain affidavit, declaring that he was not aware of its existence. He would prepare a statement of position in the matter. The reduced to sign Green's affidavit. However, the Green papers show no further action on his part and that Green had no legal right to make such a statement.

S.S. ENTERPRISE
WITH PASSENGERS
IS TOWED TO S. F.

A squat tug, with the name "Ta-toosh," looked inspiring to the sixty passengers of the disabled steamer Enterprise when she emerged from her own smoke, 165 miles south of San Francisco, early yesterday and teoted a message of rescue and re-

The Enterprise, en route from Hilo with passengers and freight, dropped her propeller no more than a day from port. Riding easy on the calm sea there was no fear unless there be a change in weather, and it was this fear of approaching squalls that made the passengers scan the horizon for friendly sails and was responsible for the sending of repeated wireless calls for help. The tug was sent and the steamer Lurline, that sailed at noon yesterday, was given instructions to stand by if necessary.

Passengers on the Enterprise, including many from Oakland and San Francisco, say that the Tatoosh appeared early while the decks were still crowded with men and women too worried to retire, and that Captain Robert Barker, her commander, was given three hearty cheers when the line was thrown aboard.

Officials of the Matson Company say that at no time was there any danger to the vessel. The Enterprise passed into San Francisco harbor and up to her dock this morning.
